MOVING FORWARD FOR FIFTY YEARS

Even as man seems to exert all of his efforts toward a better future, he keeps an ever-lingering eye on the past. A progressive future is the ultimate goal, but to achieve it man must draw from his past the incentive, knowledge, and courage needed to surpass the limits of previous generations.

Possibly no other period in our lives contributes more to this incentive, knowledge, and courage than do the high school years. The purely educational value of this period should not be underestimated. Equally important, however, are the numerous experiences that, though they seem like they will be insignificant in the future, are actually the experiences that will make us able to face the reality of tomorrow and to make a meaningful contribution to our generation.

As inevitably as time moves on, so does it cloud our memories of even a period as significant as our high school career. It is the sincere desire of the 1966 Tar-bo-rah staff that from every page of this book clear memories of a bright past will break through the cloudiness of time.

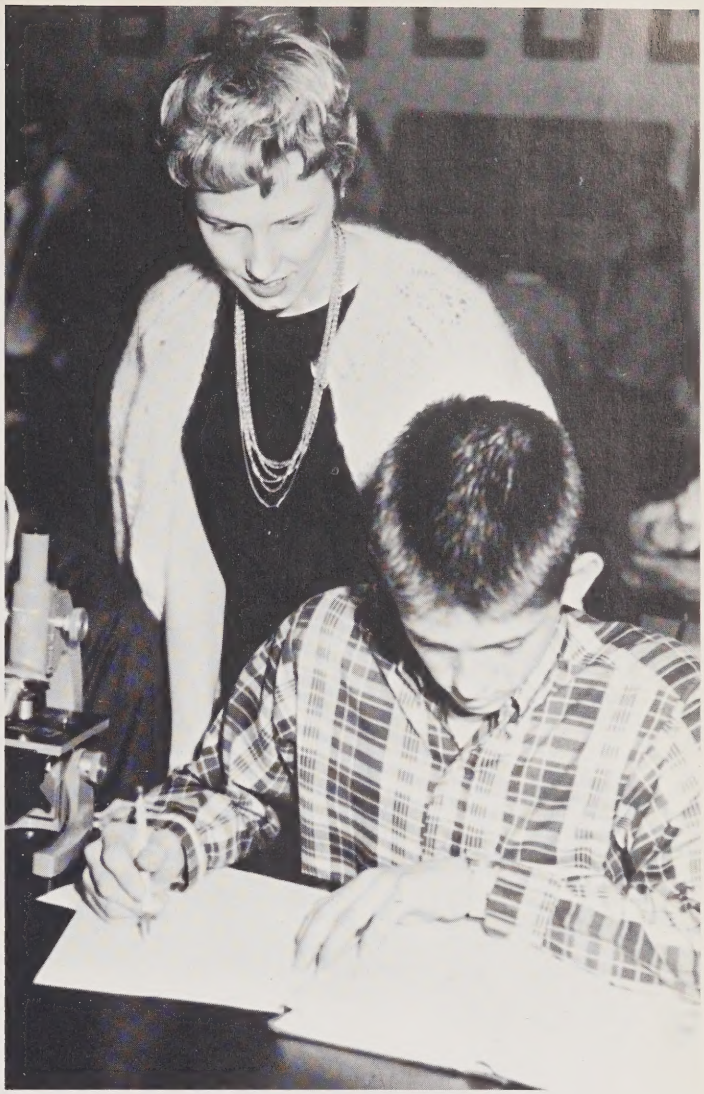
MRS. PATRICIA WHITE

DEDICATION

We the staff of the 1966 Tar-bo-rah recognize one of the THS faculty who by her service to school and student body is playing a part of lasting significance in the life of our school. Students find her advice always helpful and given willingly, and each of them need look no further than a sophomore's leaf book to see her guiding hand at work. To every student with whom she has contact she is both a teacher and a friend. Wherever is found the helpless underdog or the persecuted minority, her unrestrained support will soon be discovered backing them up regardless of their situation. This person's contribution to her profession is also outstanding not only as a teacher but as one who guides others toward teaching. Besides being a good example for all, she gives her time, talent and effort in directing the work of the F.T.A., and she has made the road to better education a straighter, smoother journey for many student teachers. She is dedicated to her profession and devoted to her students to whom she will always be a bright memory. Therefore, in recognition of her self-giving to our school and to its students, we dedicate our 1966 Tar-bo-rah to Mrs. Patricia White.



OUR GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

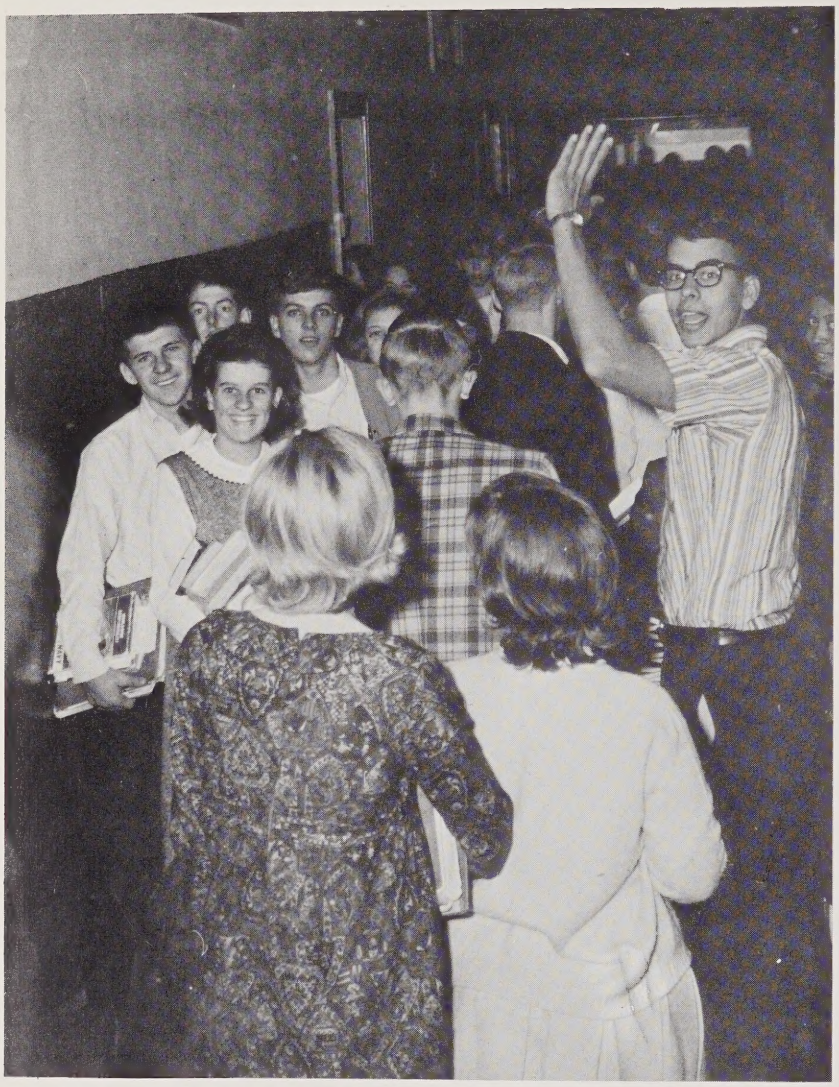
FIFTY YEARS OF MEMORIES

The year 1916 saw the publication of the first edition of the Tar-bo-rah, a visibly striking book with a cover of deep blue felt and gold lettering. The book's pictures were a bit fuzzy by modern standards, and they showed skirts that were unbelievably long, lapels that were hideously wide, and one of Tarboro High's most prominent competitive groups, a debating team.

That "old yearbook smile" however, was as prevalent as it is and has been for these fifty years. Styles have changed and debating teams have died out, but with this, the fiftieth edition of the Tar-bo-rah, we, its staff, have no greater desire than to carry on a tradition a half-century old, that of giving to every owner and reader of the Tar-bo-rah a lasting recollection of memories surrounding a year of life at Tarboro High School.

TAR-BO-RAH

STUDENT LIFE



Pandemonium breaks out as these students make the mad three minute dash from French to science.

Concentration in study halls is the key to success at T.H.S.

FOOD . . .

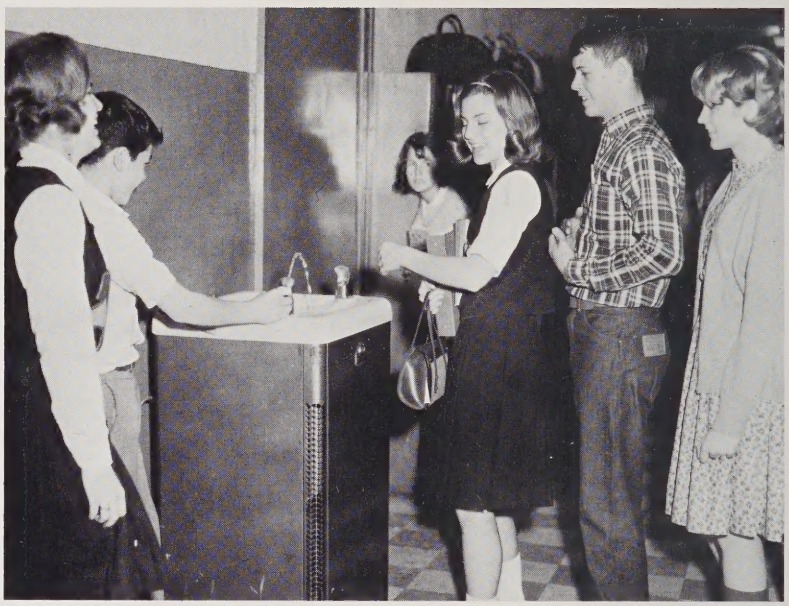
Students greedily partake of the wholesome food served in the T.H.S. lunchroom.

FOR THOUGHT

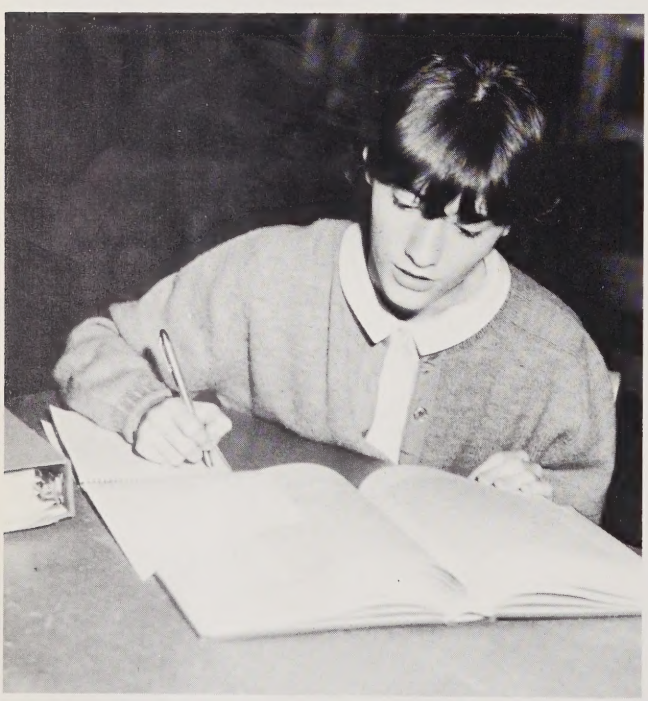
These students demonstrate that the library is strictly a place for quiet contemplation and orderly conduct.

THE CLASSIC SEVEN MINUTE BREAK

The break in our schedules before activity period brings a welcomed relief from school work. Tommy and Gayle make the most of these seven minutes.



After the first two periods of over-exerting work, the students wait in line, panting for water.



Mary Earle uses her break to get in that last minute studying so she'll have time to live it up in study hall.

The "student lounge" is a popular place at break time.

"This is the way we comb our hair." These girls are getting beautiful for their next classes.

"007", alias Bryan Arnold, along with his mysterious brief case escorts Merle to her homeroom.

Jim Hussey and Harriet Robbins exchange the latest gossip.

HOMECOMING

The T.H.S. Homecoming Activities, held October 29, included a special pep rally, homecoming parade, and exciting half time activities. The climax came with a Tiger victory over Havelock and the crowning of T.H.S.'s queen.

These students take time out from the "funeral proceedings" for the Rams, held on top of the Monogram Club float.

Mike Serra exemplifies polished idleness.

"All right, boys. Let's not fight over who's gonna hammer next." Edward Roberson, Bruce Purvis, and John Hinnant help (?) with the creation of the Student Council homecoming float.

Eleanor Logan, chief cheerleader, practices for the big homecoming game. Even the janitors get into the scene.

EXCITING BUT HECTIC!

Our spirited band leads the homecoming parade down Main Street.

Cherry Warren, sponsored by the National Honor Society, was one of the lovely candidates for homecoming queen.

A time for cheers . . . a time for praise . . . a time for tears . . . T.H.S. has won its homecoming game!

T.H.S.'S QUEEN

BERNICE MEARS

These twenty-two lovely young ladies comprise the 1966 Queen's Court. Back row - B. Biddle, C. Warren, L. H. Calvert, M. J. Check, E. Gibbs, I. Roberson, B. Mears, J. Dunn, B. Etheridge, B. Creech, G. Ward, S. A. Whitehurst. Front row - J. Pate, J. Lewis, R. A. Thompson, C. Kittinger, M. M. Pennington, G. Piland, E. Logan, A. Colson, C. Schiff, G. Sexton. Not pictured - Dolores Willamson

MARSHALS

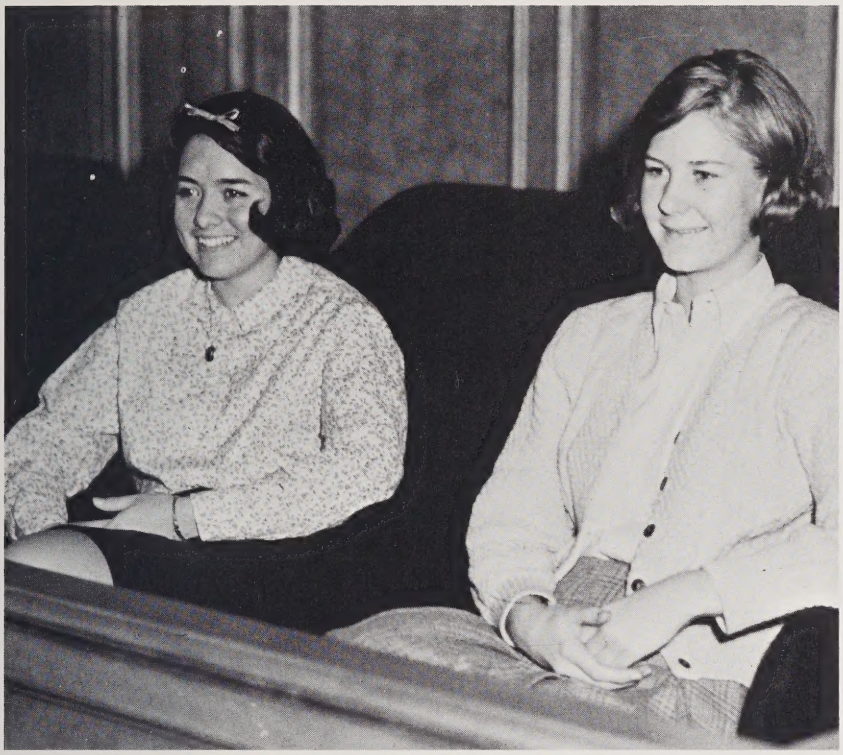
GIRLS' STATE



Ann Colson and Isabel Roberson were chosen by the faculty to represent T.H.S. this year at Girls' State, a week-long summer conference, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

BOYS' STATE

The American Legion sponsored Mike Owens, Mike Serra, and Sam Carlisle for Boys' State this year. The boys gained much knowledge about state government from this experience.

WEST TARBORO YOUTH COUNCIL

Sponsored by the town of Tarboro, the West Tarboro Youth Council is an exciting addition to Tarboro student life. The members, representing Tarboro High and junior high school, are directed by Mr. Brent Braswell and help to promote recreational activities including sports, hobbies, and parties for Tarboro teenagers.

SNOW BRINGS FUN FOR EVERYONE!

This happy-looking bunch is glad that snow has kept them from going to school.

Riding down the hill in "the little, red boat" takes skill.

Madam Rose Ann predicted that a large amount of snow would fall this winter. She was correct!

T.H.S. TALENT

Tarboro High's talent show produced a variety of promising, talented performers. The "Diatoms" were the hit of the show, singing many popular songs.

Kenna Peters and Jean Brown entertained the T.H.S. student body with a variety of harmonious folk tunes.

The "Castaways," made up of several T.H.S. Juniors, also entertained with their arrangements of several popular songs.

These unrecognizable girls are the varsity cheerleaders being initiated into the Monogram Club.

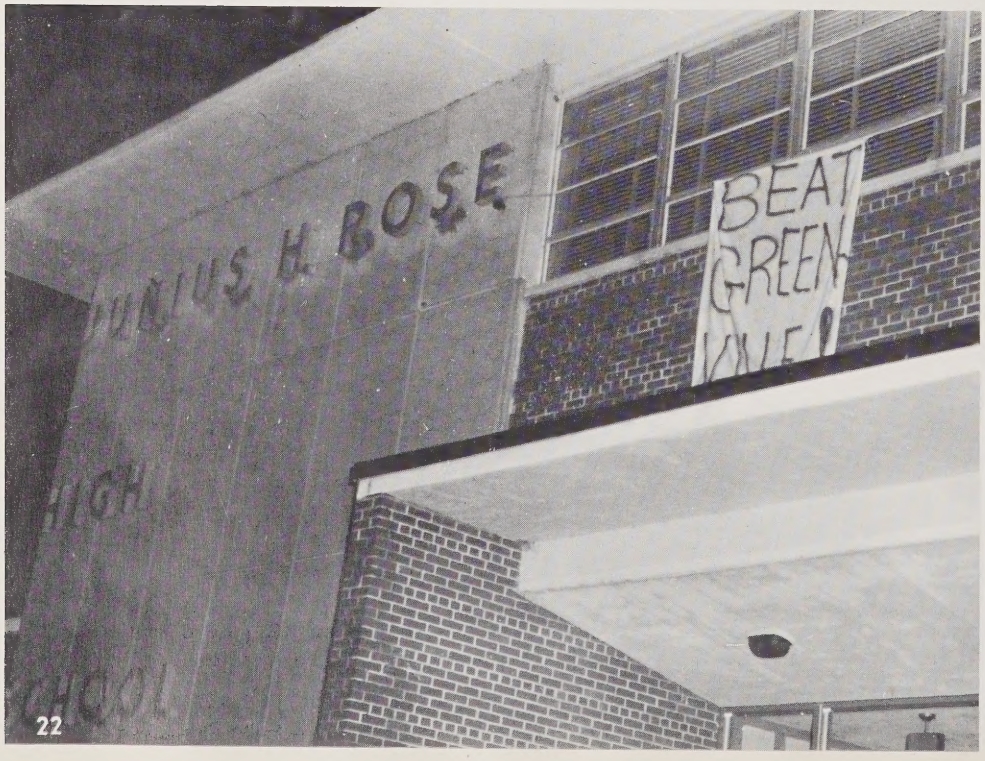
David Lanier represented T.H.S. at Governor's School, a seven weeks summer program of accelerated study for gifted students.

Edward Roberson was chosen by the faculty to be the Optimist Club Typical Youth for Tarboro High.

Ann Colson was chosen to represent T.H.S. as the D.A.R. Good Citizen by the students and the faculty.

A carefully chosen diet is the key factor in the training program of our young athletes.

Tigers look dejected after their first loss of the season, to Greenville, which they later avenged in the championship.



Even the Greenville students recognize it is useless to challenge the superiority of the mighty Tarboro Tigers!

GOOD YEAR AT T.H.S.

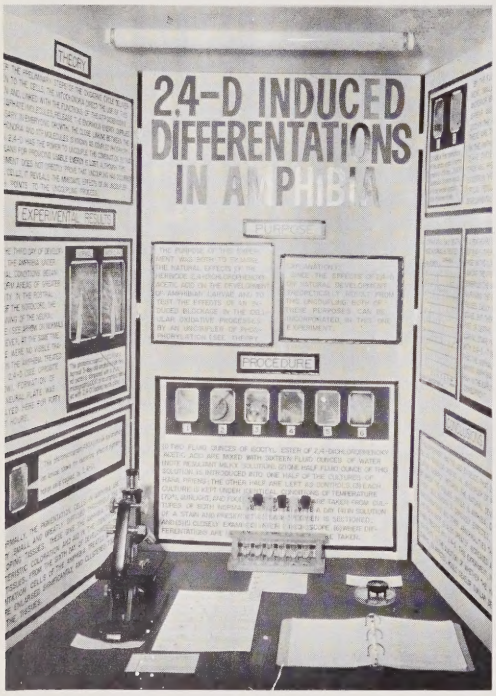
We must be way ahead --the Tiger basketball fans have time to pose for a picture.

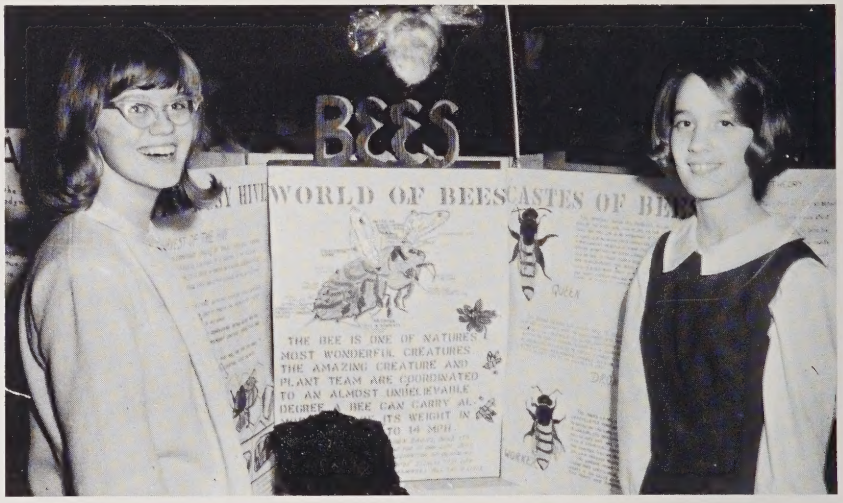
February, our class ring month, converts these Juniors into amateur jewelers.

Spring finds the choral music group still hard at work.

SPRING MAN

The local Science Fair was a big success. These students won honors.
Front row - M.V. Pollard, D. Livesay, S. Clayton, G. Fleming, R. Coker, R. O'Neal, Back row - T. McLaughlin, B. Wrenn, M. Owens, E. Gooch, B. Babcock, S. Carlisle, S. Fleming, C. Warren. Not pictured - D. Lanier.





BEES
WORLD OF BEES
THE BEE IS ONE OF NATURE'S MOST WONDERFUL CREATURES
THE AMAZING CREATURE AND PLANT TEAM ARE COORDINATED TO AN ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE

LEFT - To the general science student this depicts what is commonly known as "Clyde's" Theory. But to David Lanier, creator of the project, it's a second place winner in the State Science Fair.
ABOVE - Cathy Warren and Dena Livesay are "buzzing" with happiness, now that they're local science fair winners and can attend the district fair in Greenville.

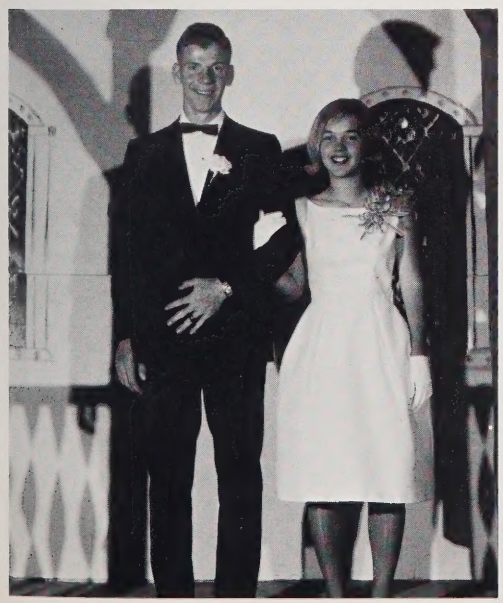
"Nobody - but nobody - gets by this gate without paying!" Janet Rawls and Gail Fleming keep a constant vigil at one of T.H.S.'s many spring baseball games.

BRINGS ACTIVITIES

"Sixteen men on a dead man's chest! Yo-ho-ho and a can of paint!" While everybody else labors away, this motley crew has their own "before" and "in the meantime" party.

The Mardi Gras clown (hard to make, impossible to keep together, wild to look at, and miserable to tear down) stands as the symbol of the 1965 Jr.-Sr.

John Hinnant and Steve Schaab try to improve on an already perfect Jr.-Sr.



Mary Morrison Pennington and Jackie Jackson are one of the over one hundred and fifty couples who walked down the deck of the magnificent showboat to attend the 1965 Jr.-Sr.

CLASSES

SENIORS

President Judy Dunn clears the way for Seniors to leave assembly.

Vice-President Larry Newberry is in control of any emergency.

Secretary Betty Padgett studies her minutes.

Treasurer Jim Hussey guards money from attack.

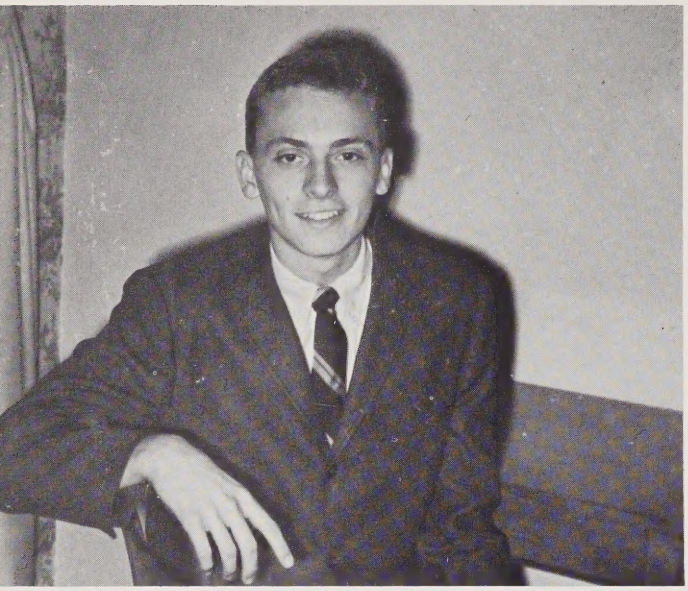
OUTSTANDING SENIORS

Ann Colson is a hard working senior. Her scholastic ability shows by her name being constantly on the honor roll. She was chosen Most Likely to Succeed and The Most Studious by fellow seniors. Ann is the co-editor of the Tar-Bo-Rah. She could be considered the glue of the book. Ann is active in most school affairs and clubs.

Rob Howard is a somewhat quiet boy who was chosen by popular vote to be the Friendliest and The Most Popular senior. Rob is an active member and President of the Key Club. He is an honor student being tapped into the N.H.S. Rob is as good in the classroom with the books as he is on the golf course with a 9-iron.

Eleanor Logan is a bubbling member of the senior class. She is a highly school spirited cheerleader who was elected chief this year. Her high grades usually keep her on either the honor roll or the principal's list.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS



David Lanier is popular with the faculty of T. H. S. as well as the students. David's scholastic abilities shine as shown by his being chief marshal and a Morehead Scholarship nominee. As President of the Student Body, David has fulfilled all of his campaign promises, including organizing the newly formed Honor Council and the newspaper. David is constantly organizing and working for his fellow students.

Gail Sexton has worked many hard, long hours reorganizing, assigning reports, writing stories, and seeing that articles are written for the newspaper. Gail is also a diligent worker on the annual staff. She is active in most of the other clubs in Tarboro High.

Judy Dunn is an energetic senior. She is President of the class and works hard at it. She can often be found in the paper bins bailing paper. Judy was elected Most School Spirited, and Friendliest. Judy is also the business manager of the annual staff. She was one of the first to put the Pep Club on its feet. She is truly an outstanding senior.

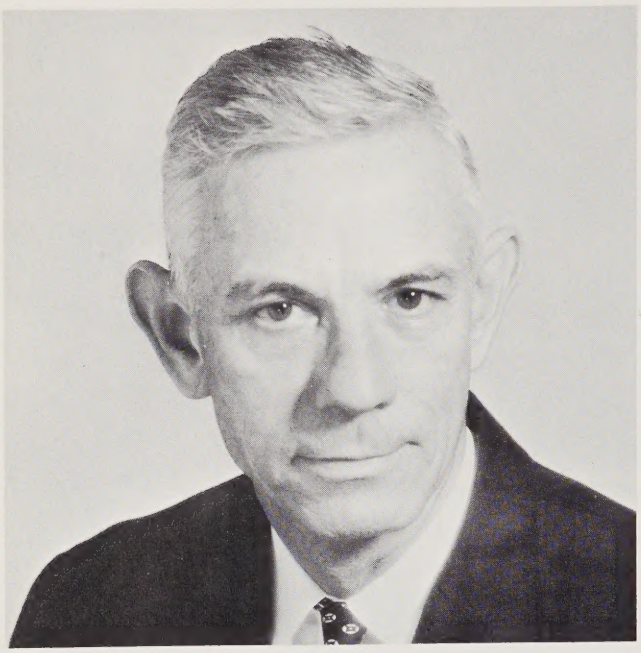
ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY ACADEMICS



Much expensive equipment has been added to the science and foreign language labs to provide for more extensive study in these areas through the efforts of Mr. Martin, our Superintendent.

Mr. Dail Holderness, chairman of the local school board, carefully guides the administration.

Polly Brown, Woody Livesay, Dail Holderness, Bobby Anderson, (not pictured: Bruce Russell and Tom Grainger) compose the School Board which, although seldom seen by the students in everyday school life, is the guiding force by which our school functions.

ADMINISTRATION

"My mind's made up. Don't add to the confusion!"

Mr. Forrest, our Principal, deals each day with student problems, supervises school activities, and maintains strict discipline in a fitting blend of authority and understanding. The ability with which he handles his job makes it difficult to realize how large it is.

"4 'E's' and a 'D'!? May be he's been concentrating too much on one subject." Miss Grace Whitehurst, our guidance counselor, shows an interest and concern for everyone, and her hard work makes for great efficiency.

"Now let's see. That's four hamburgers, three french fries, and five cokes!" Mrs. Betty Winchester and Mrs. Donna Hale have no small job for they must keep a record of all funds and school expenditures within the budget.

Edgar Sugg, Steve Williamson, Jerry Wilson, Danny Whitaker, Bennie Sessoms, Mr. Forrest, Joe Stroud, Montie Lewis, and Alton Skinner discuss and plan the bus routes to be used this year at T. H. S.

To these 6 people THS students give many thanks for their conscientious efforts to keep the physical facilities running smoothly. Left to right: Viola Hopkins, Annie Lou Pettaway, Rosa Harris, James Caine, Columbus Bryant, and Jimmy Knight.

Elizata Jones, Tillie Williams, Martha Pettaway, Eva Jones, and Ruby Wooten, under the direction of Mrs. Wilson, prepare hot lunches for THS students every school day.

ENGLISH —

THE ART OF EXPRESSION

Industrious freshmen mastering the rules of punctuation...sophomores discovering the literary world of William Shakespeare...patriotic juniors studying the literature of their own country...seniors laboriously compiling research papers...

Janet Grainger: "I read this book...uh, about these bears...uh, and their soup got too hot..."

"Well ya' see, there was this cat Agamemnon, an'

"All right Bucky,

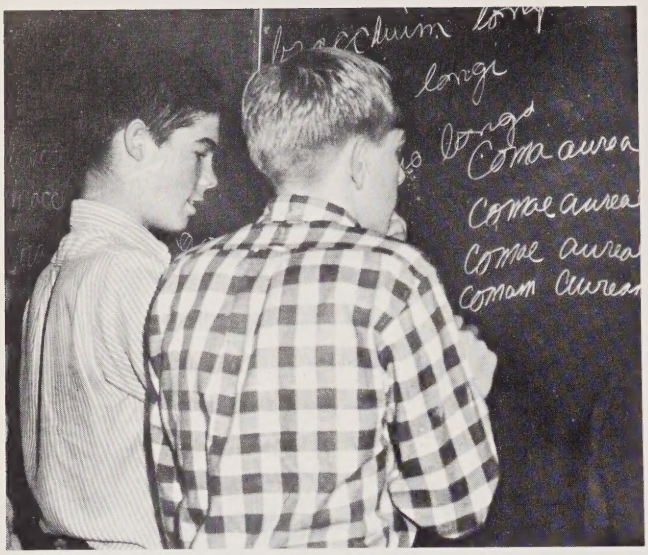
he stole Achilles' woman..."

Step by step all T. H. S. students progress along the road to improved English. In four years of study the student endeavors to learn to write and interpret the writings of others effectively, thus building a solid foundation for other subjects and broadening his own communicative powers.

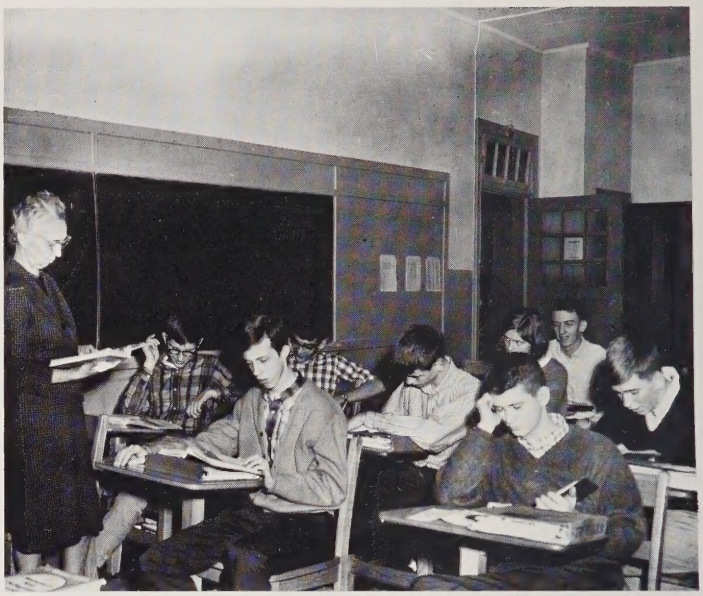
siesta's over."

"Onamotopoeia is a word that sounds like what it means. Like kiss--want me to demonstrate?"

FOREIGN LANGUAGE



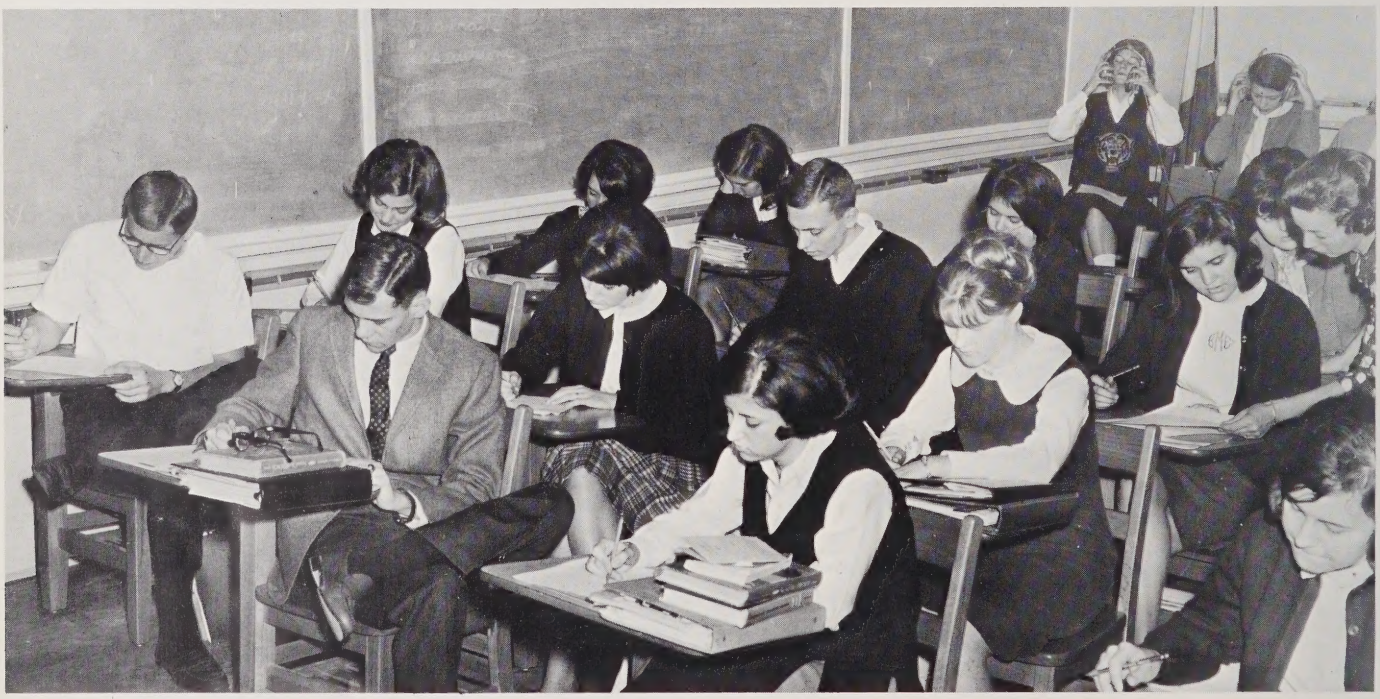
"I came, I saw, I flunked" - Latin I students begin a familiar declension.



"Wonder if we are suppose to be getting something out of this?"

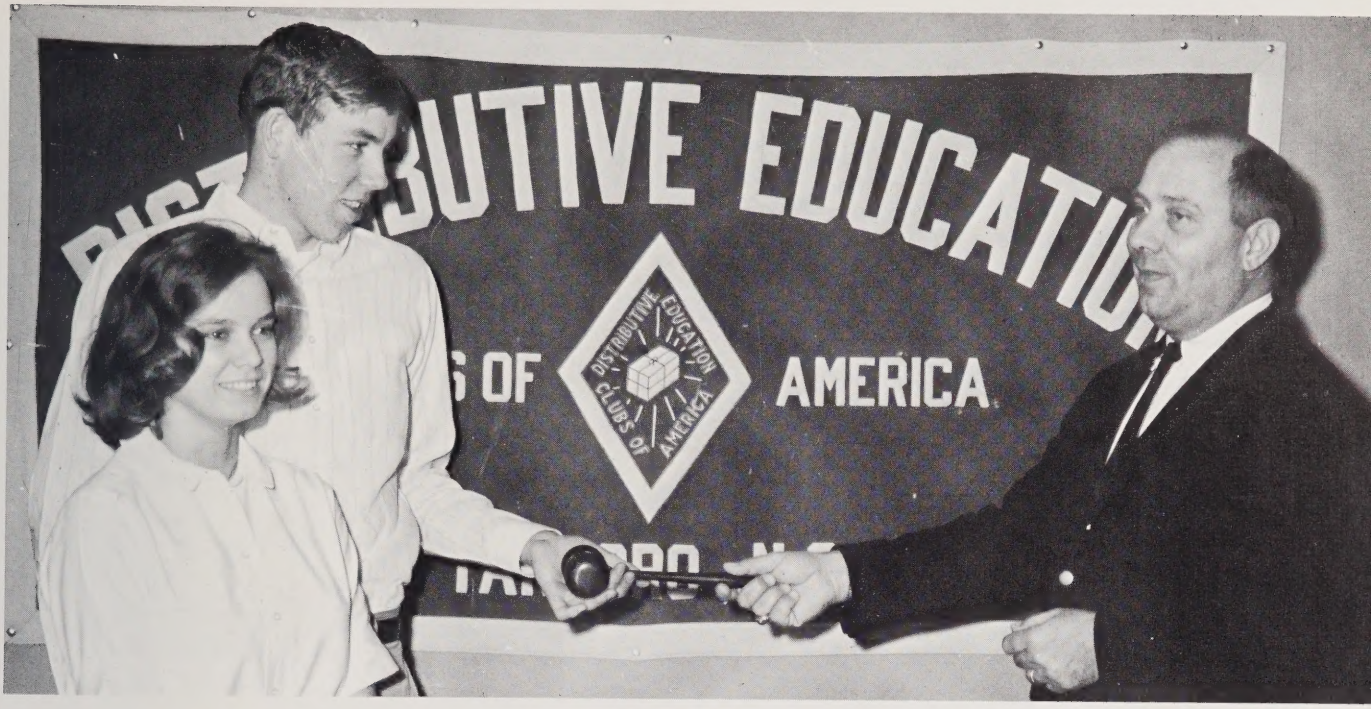
Between the first day of declensions and conjugations and the final encounter with the military tactics of Julius Caesar, Mrs. Morse not only instills a working knowledge of Latin but also proves that - Labor omnia vincit.

While just down the hall, other foreign language students learn to speak "En francais, en francais!" Under the energetic and knowing guidance of Mrs. Highsmith, French students become all too acquainted with the life, customs, as well as the language of the French people.



Faking a French test is lots more fun than taking one!

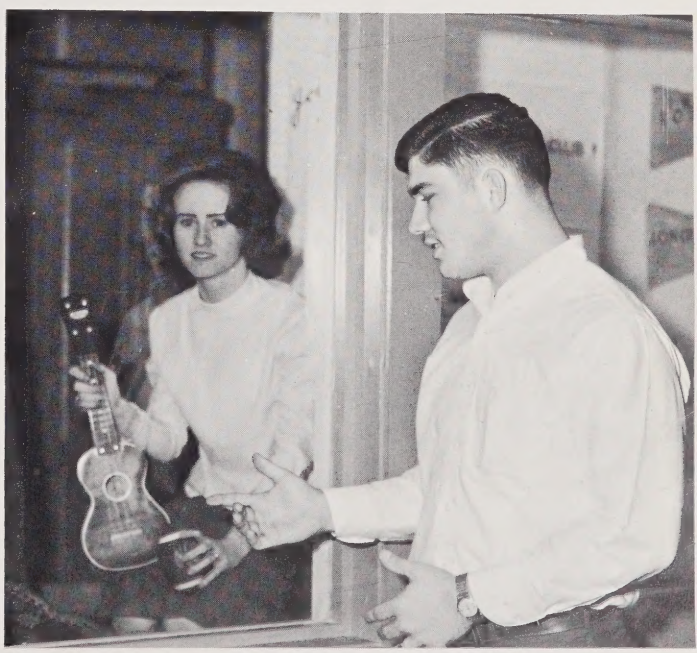
DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION



"O.K. Mr. Spencer, you can let go now!"

"There are three sides to every story - yours, mine, and the facts - so where's the money?"

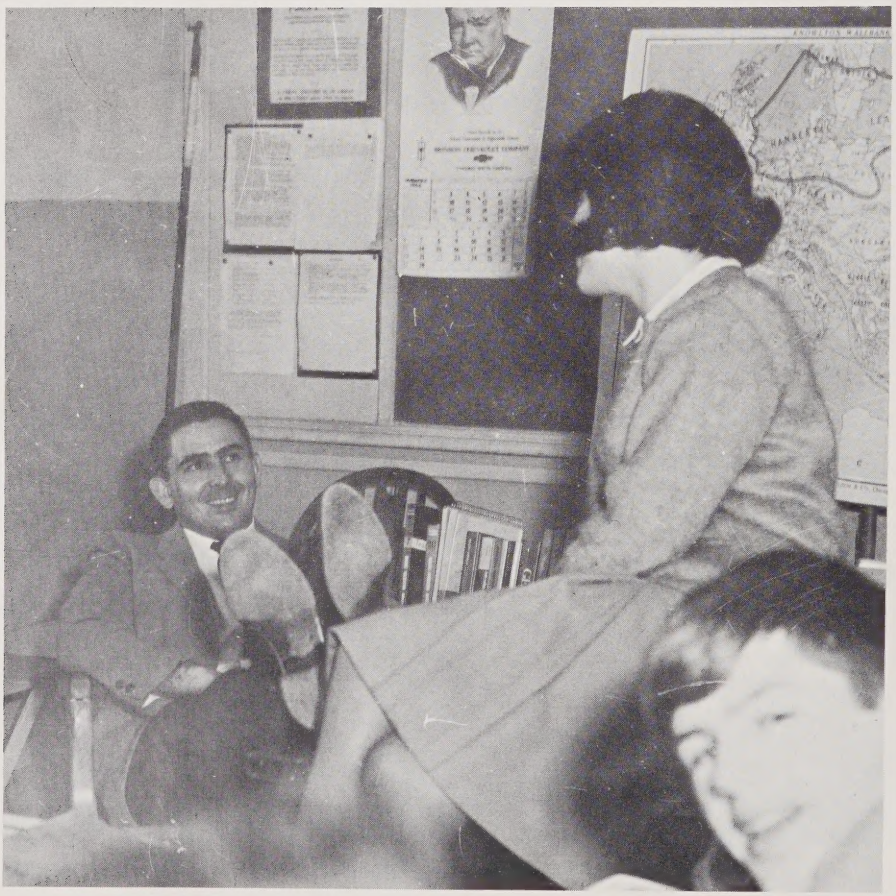
Ring! And the cash register opens again as distributive education students continue to combine job education with actual work experience. Whether they find themselves in a clothing store, behind a check-out counter, or even in the water plant, DE students learn the skills of making, delivering, or selling goods to the prospective customer as they gain training that is so invaluable to success after high school.



Bobby Dixon: "I could swear I saw that mannequin move."

SOCIAL STUDIES

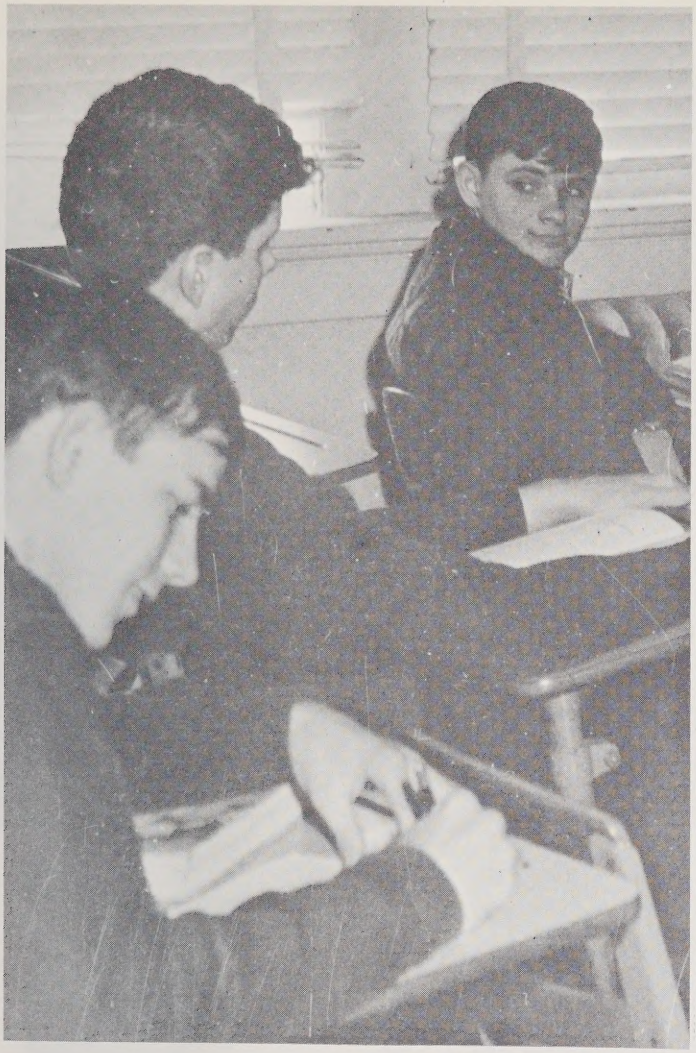
"O.K. who put 'M. E. + W. C.' on the board!?"



"You ain't too bright, but I like your form."

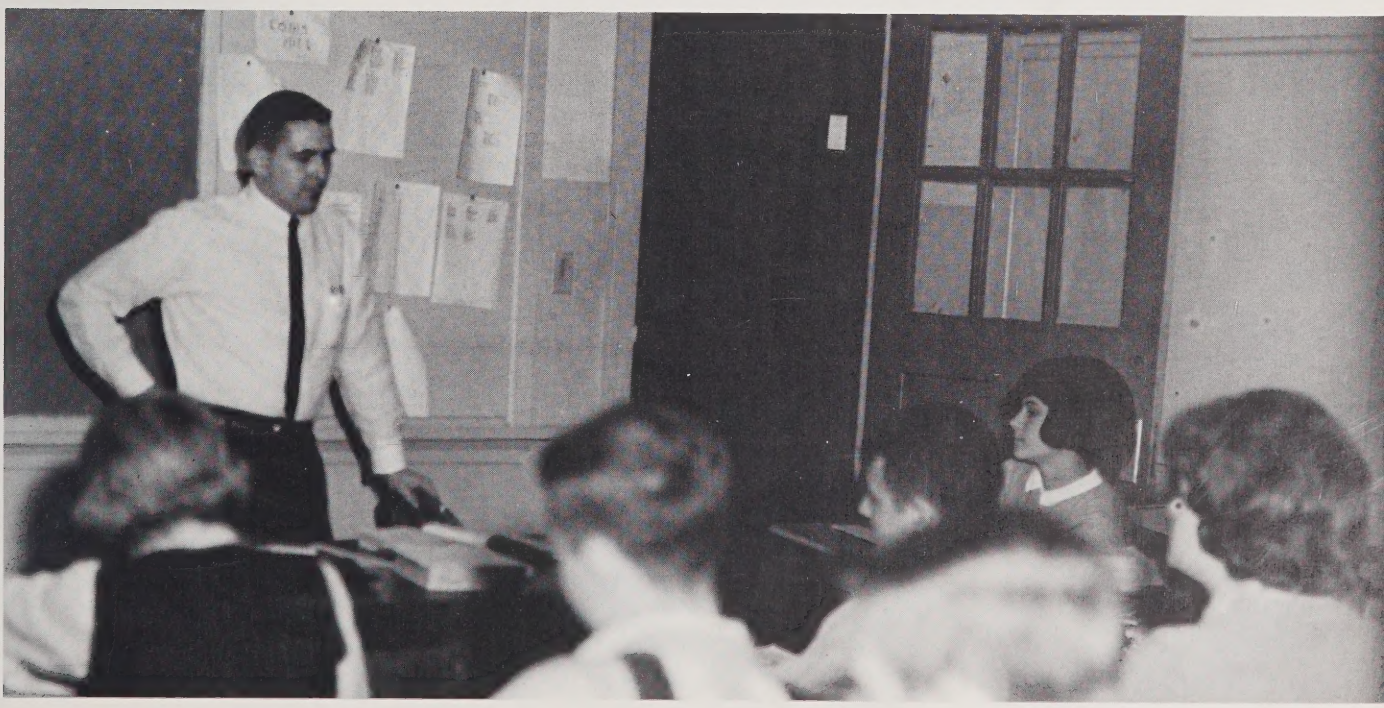
Social Studies - a maze of dates... wars...world leaders...civilizations... social problems...forms of government...

From an imaginary world created in Miss Ellis' government class to current event discussions in Mr. Howell's or Mr. Cooley's world history classes, the social studies department has proven to be one of the liveliest at THS this year. Students who entered history (U.S. or World), government, economics, or sociology expecting a dull, boring year were happily surprised to find instead an exciting new world of foreign lands, past experiences, and men and problems of yesteryear. From maps, globes, histories, tables, charts, and spirited teachers social study students have gained an understanding of their own heritage and have become better prepared to face the difficulties of their own day.

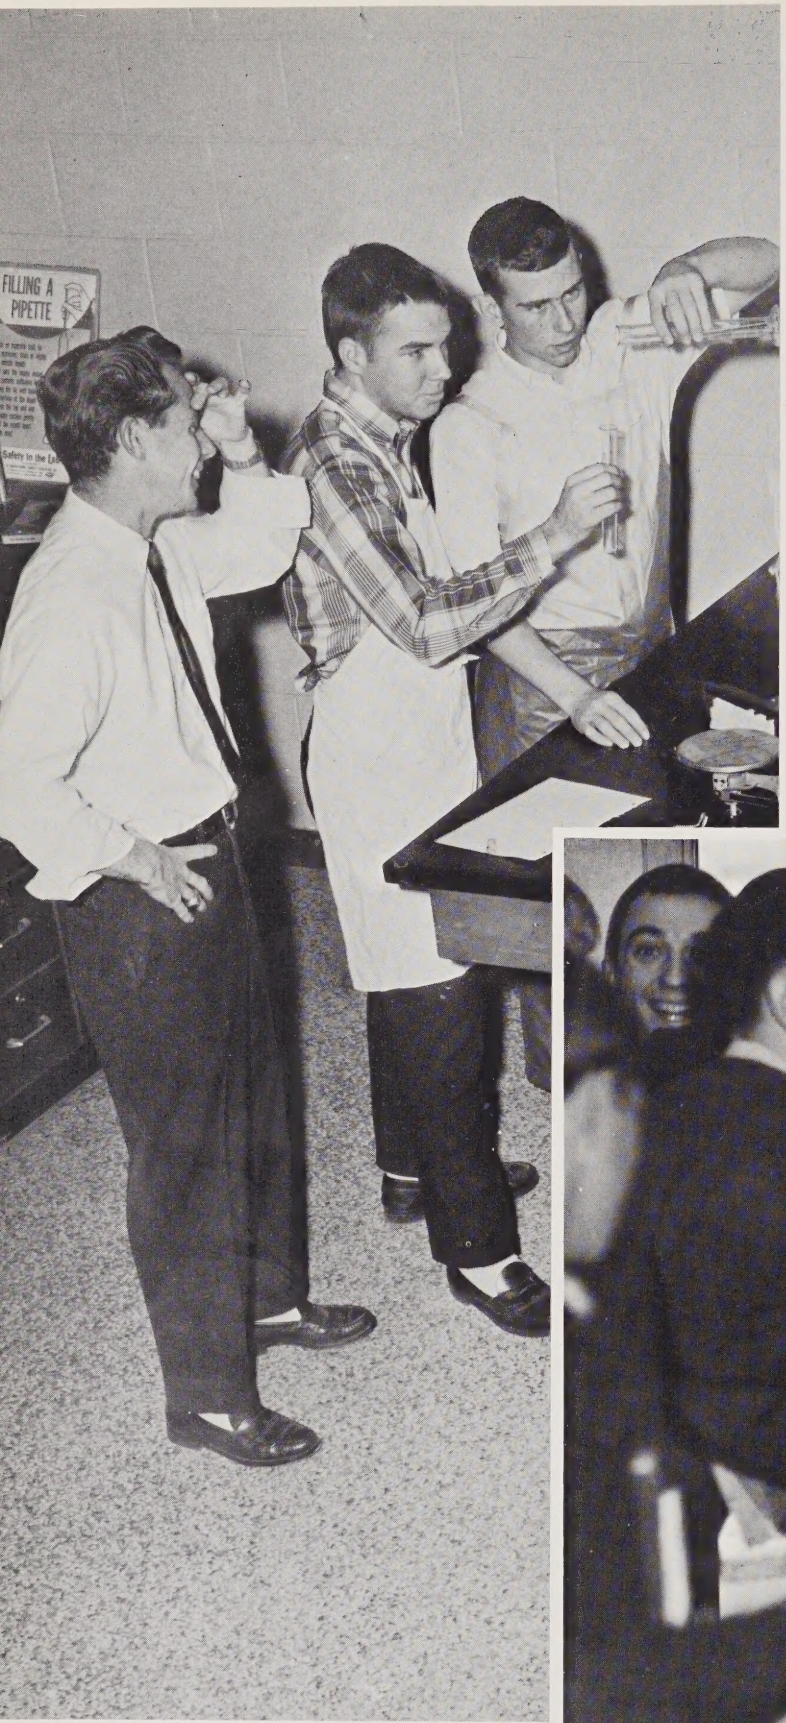


"What do you mean, you want to copy my homework!"

"In these hands lay the future of the world?"



"No lip off of you, I'm a Corporal in the National Guard!"



Test tubes, beakers, scales...whee! it's a happy fizzies party.

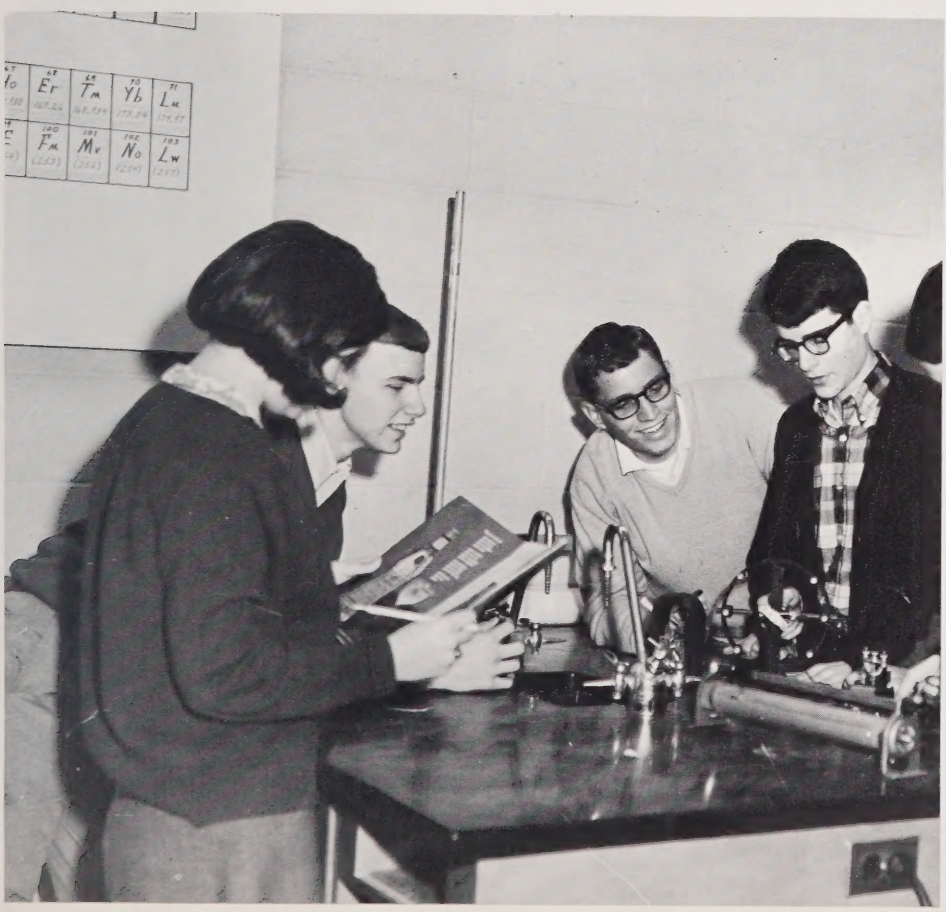
In our modern age of interplanetary space travel and souped up Sting Rays, there is a great need for increasing understanding of the mysteries of science. Always ready to instill scientific knowledge in their students at THS through biology, chemistry, physics, or general science are our qualified teachers--Mrs. White, Mr. Gwaltney (our part-time carpenter), and the many-faceted Mr. Houston.

Whether dissecting a frog, proving acids turn blue litmus paper red, or making an atom bomb, THS students acquire very adequate preparation for study on the college level.

"O.K. fellows, just give me and Mr. Merrit time to get out of the way!"

EXPLORES THE UNKNOWN

Mr. Houston: "Read the next four chapters while I go fix the camera."



Bernice: "...and after you add the yeast, sugar, and the corn mash, you have to wait a year or two for it to ferment. Then it'll be just right for the next New Year's Eve party!!"

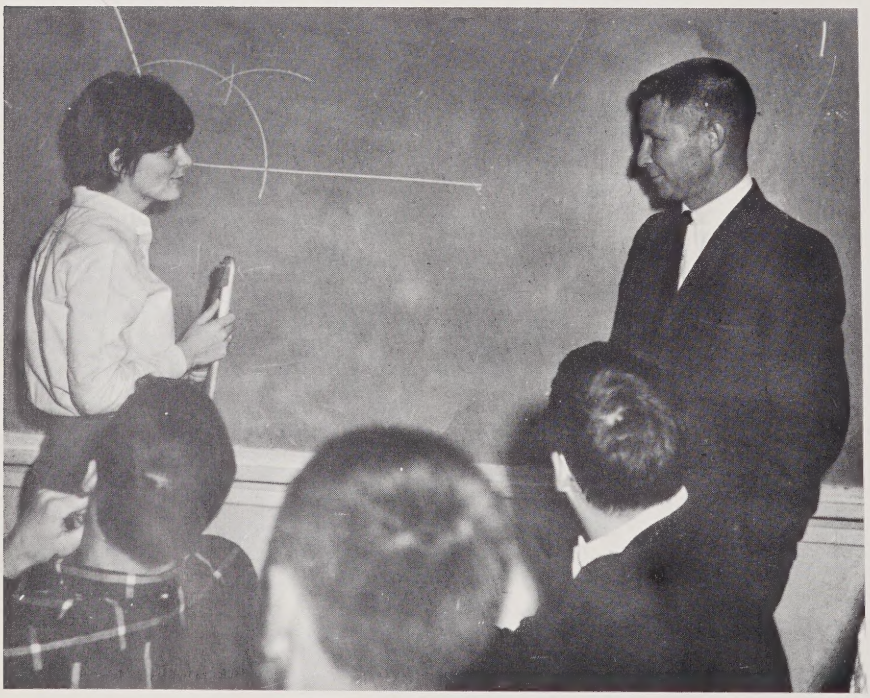
Which is John more interested in-- the bottle or the book?

MATH —

A WORLD OF NUMBERS

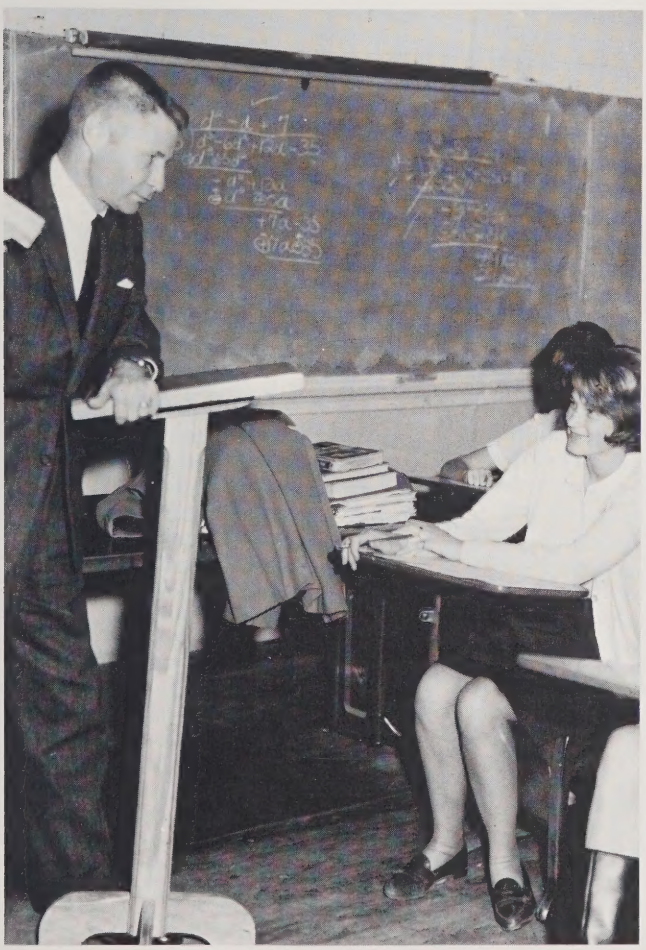
"Now take out a sheet of paper...I have a few, simple problems for you..." The first signs of one of Mrs. Forrest's familiar geometry tests, no doubt, or maybe a Wednesday special in Mr. Davis's business arithmetic class. Whether in algebra, geometry, business arithmetic, or advanced math, students soon find that the world of mathematics is a fascinating but demanding one.

But it is always comforting to know that the realm of numbers, the mystifying unknown "x", slide rulers, even infinity has a practical application and will be useful throughout life.



Linda Mears: "After you bisect the angle...Mr. Collins, are you paying attention?"

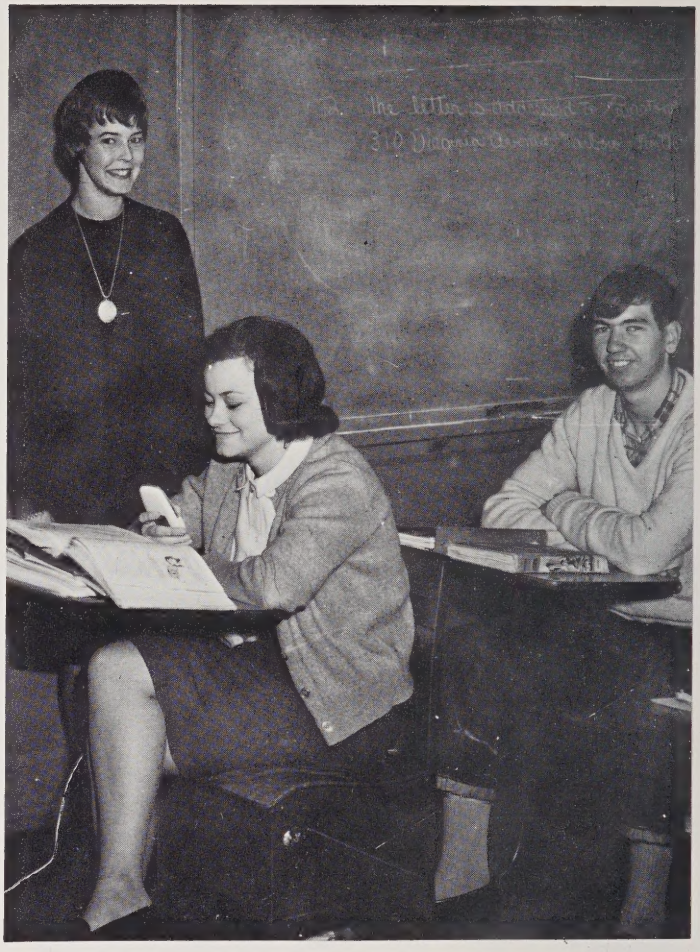
"These Business Arithmetic problems get harder every day. If a salesman sold 5 people 6 yards of cloth, does he use Ban or Palmolive Gold?"



Mr. Collins exercises "unique" discipline in General Math.

Susan Clayton contemplates the workings of the "stick."

Eleanor: "I did it! I typed 60 words a minute!"
Mrs. Dean: "Yeah, but what language is it in?"



"And then you say Dick, Dick, Bo Bick, Banana Pana Fo Fick..."

"Take this letter-- Dear Mr. Claus, I want a lollipop, curlers, spray net, and..."

COMMERCIAL EXPERIENCE

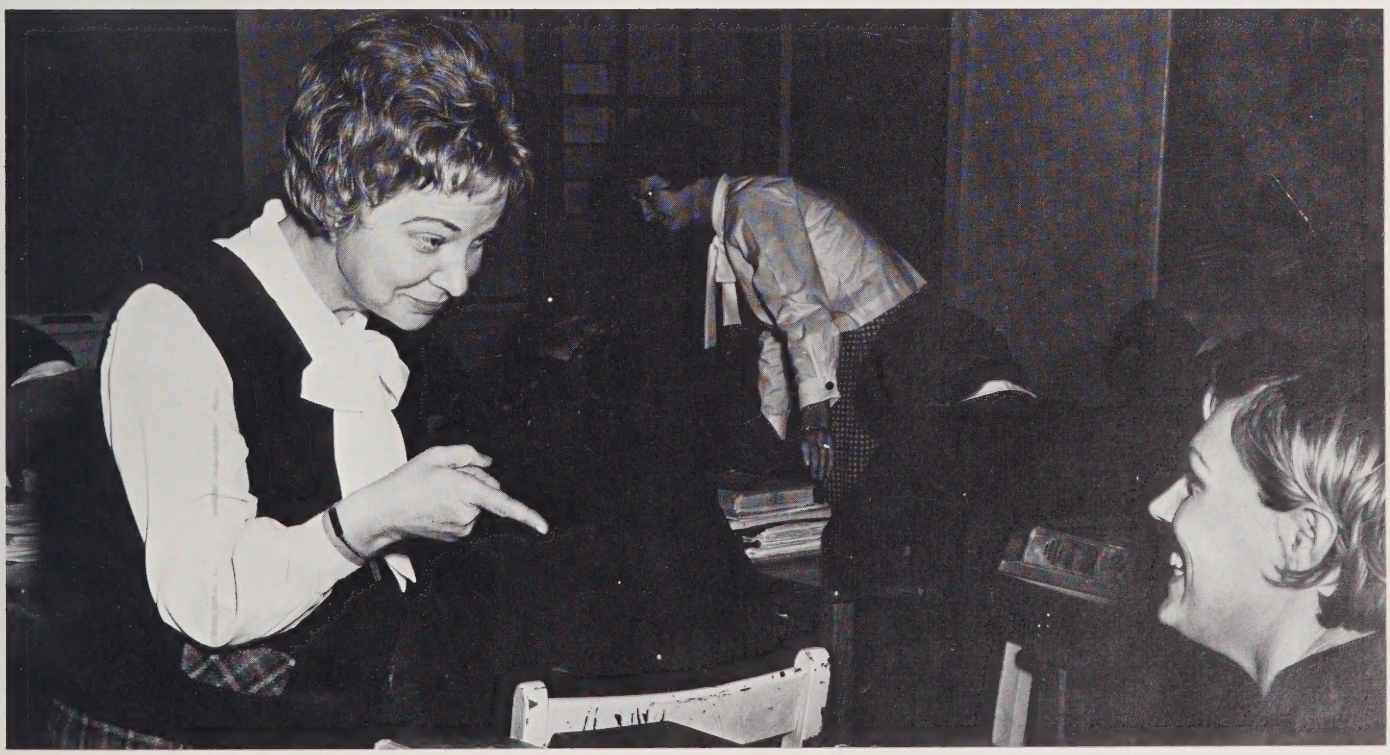
THS misery is--typing 60 words a minute and then finding out that you've been on the wrong row of keys.

In the business courses now offered at THS, new skills are discovered and developed for some, while others find that the skills just weren't there in the first place! Typing is such a course. The rumors that bookkeeping students play "Come to the Head of the Class" are entirely false--instead, they play "I Can Stay Out of the Red Longer Than You."

The complicated-looking equipment in the machine room provides an excellent office for the students of general business who are constantly demanding its use. The other class--shorthand--provides...well, many headaches for those THS students who must make use of its scribbly lingo.

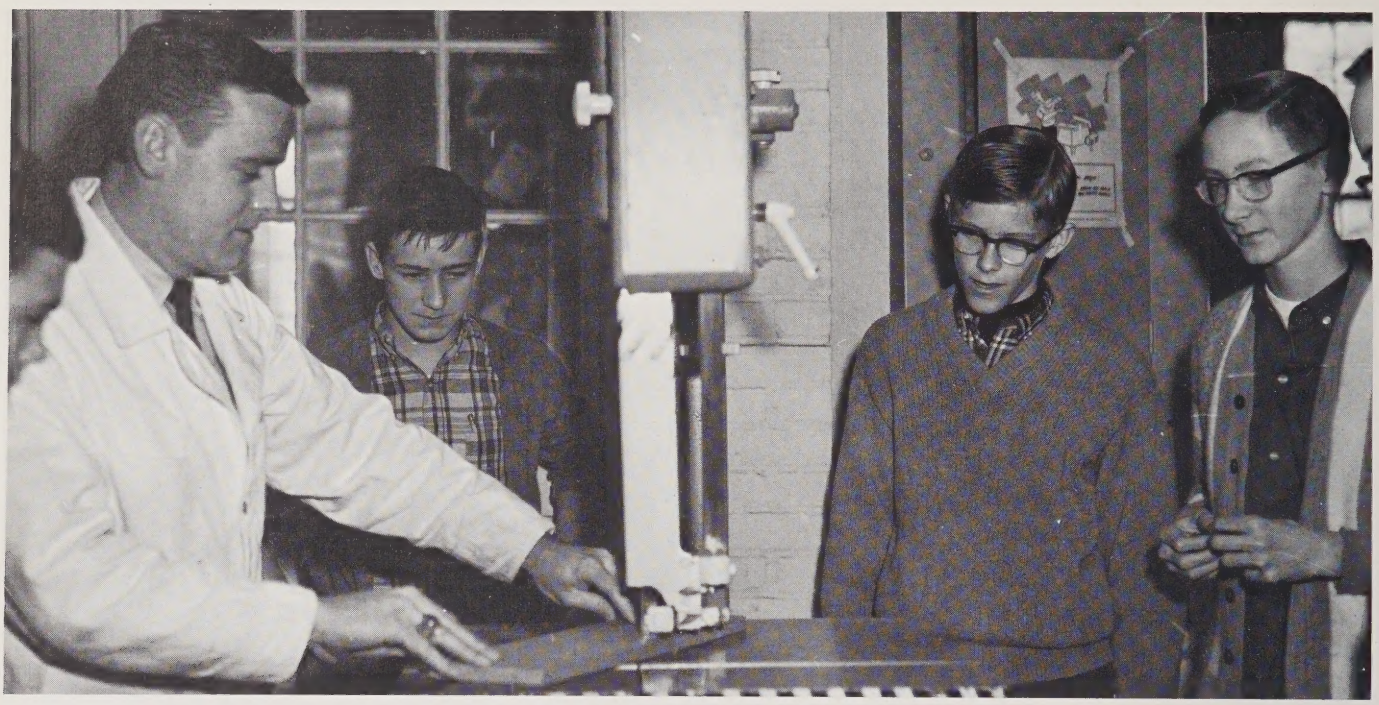
Yet all in all, the business department manages to prepare students for their future career in the world of business.

"It might work better if you plugged it in."



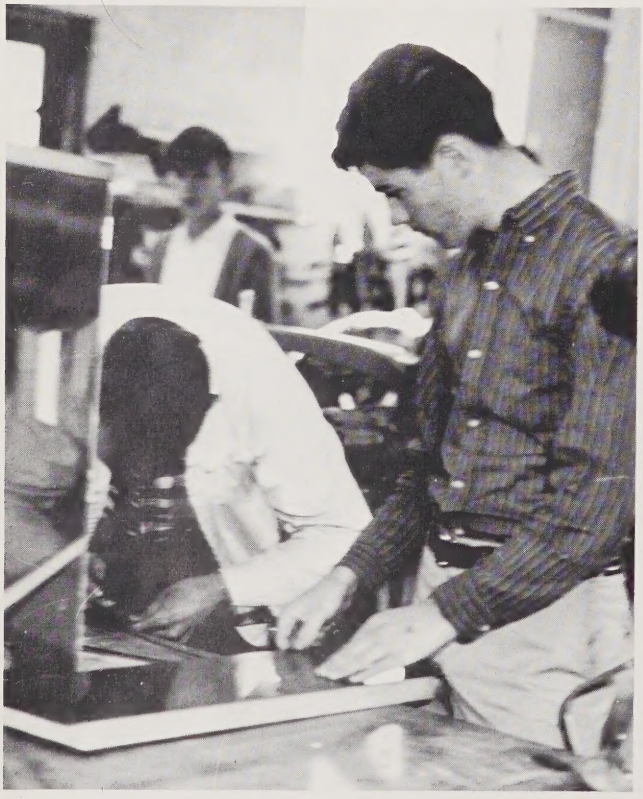
"Marie, are you in the red again?"

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

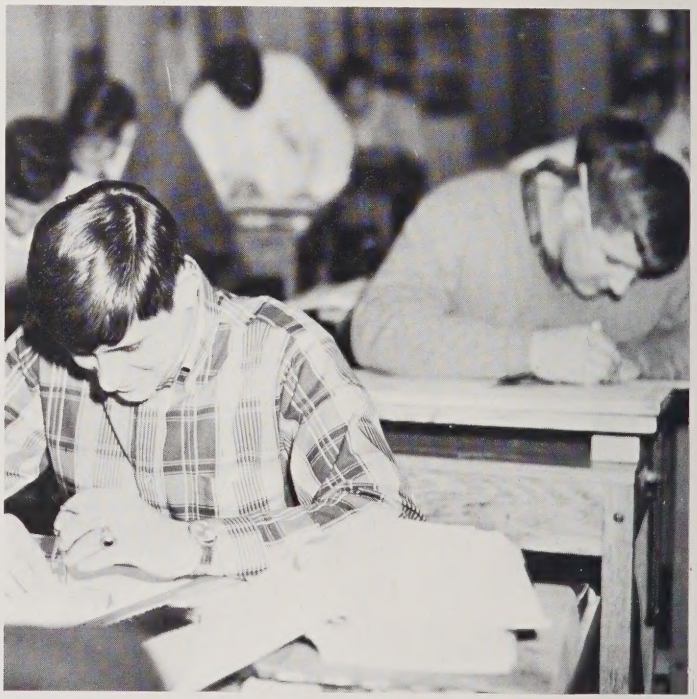


Mr. Everette: "All right, boys, the main thing to remember is not to cut off your finger."

Shh-- master craftsman at work! Using various shop machines, working with wood, or making metal objects requires much time and skill which is acquired in the courses of THS's industrial arts department. Designed primarily for the exploration of mechanics and its relationship in every day living, the industrial arts or mechanical drawing classes, headed efficiently by Mr. Everette, place emphasis on safe working habits and procedures.



Jerry: "You think we can sell it?" "Junior Craftsmen" struggle with assembly line production.



"Boy this is going to be some house-- without a roof!"

HOME ECONOMICS

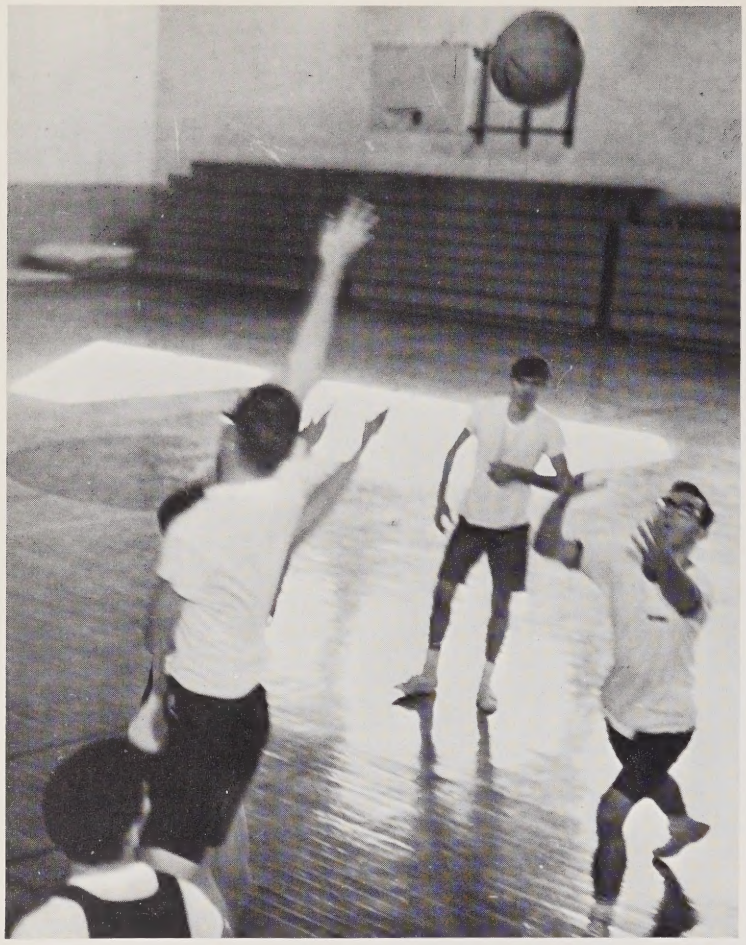
Overheard at the home economics cottage: "Of course it doesn't fit. That's the arm facing you're sewing on the neck!"

The frustration of continuously reworking and redoing is as much a part of home economics as the finished products and the satisfaction of a job well done. The cry often heard throughout the year may have been one of disappointment, or it may have been a laugh of hopelessness... But sometime in the span of the four years offered to THS girls, the student usually manages to come up sooner or later with a blue ribbon pie!

A woman's work is never done!

Carol: "Julie, you know I didn't know these beds were used at night."

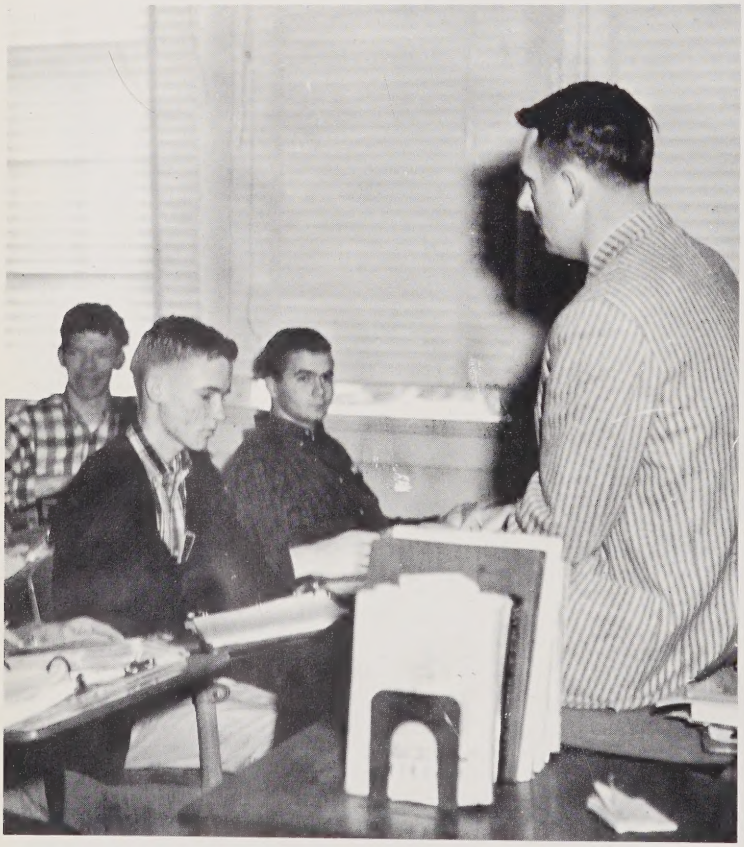
"My--darts are out of line. That's what's the matter!" Joy Acree goes through the normal frustrations of learning to sew.



Alexander's version of Swan Lake.

HEALTH AND P.E.

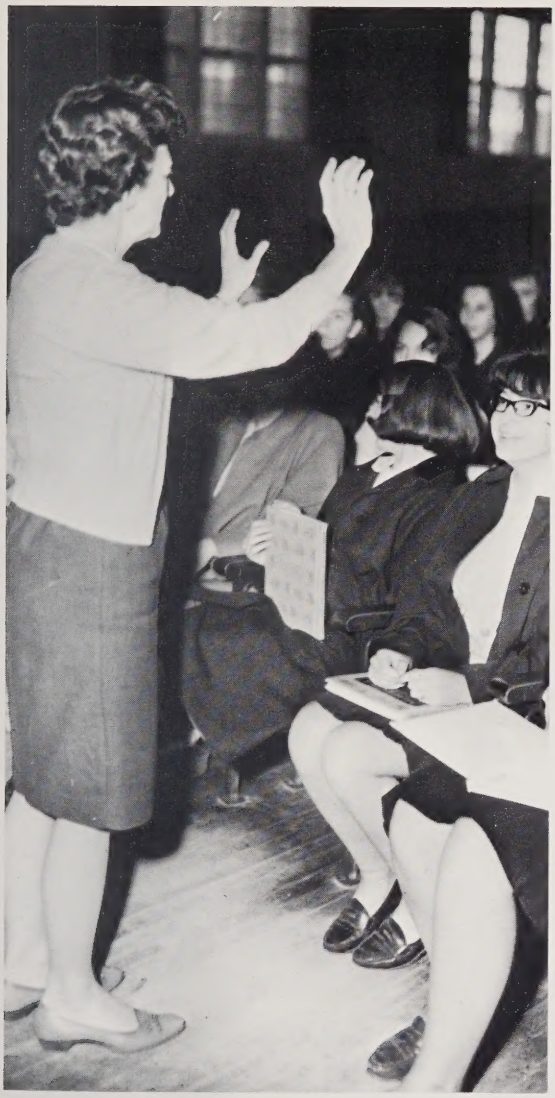
"Hup, two, three, four...hup, two, three, four!" Doubtlessly the most looked-forward-to hours of the week are those spent performing a great variety of exercises and sports in physical education class. Participating in anything from push ups and four-count-knee-bends to touch football and "crab soccer", girls and boys at THS gain both muscular frames and healthy vigor. Mr. Alexander and Mrs. Smith also take "time out" from their gym classes to explain to enthralled freshmen the functions of the human body in their health classes. Thus the "education of the whole student" - mental and physical education becomes a reality.



"Parker, did you have an overdose?"

998. I must not yell at Mrs. Smith.
999. I must not yell at Mrs. Smith.

MUSIC — A CULTURAL EXPRESSION



"Happy Birthday to you..."

It has been said that music's greatest pleasure is derived by those participating in it. Certainly most people will agree after watching THS band students in a parade or during a halftime performance. Under Mr. Green's able direction, the greatly improved THS band has proved itself a credit to Tarboro as well as adding much to the enjoyment of sixth period as they are heard practicing. Choral music's participation in the Christmas pageant resulted in resounding cheers...at the conclusion.

"All right Tyrone! We're not having 'Jingle Bells' in the Easter Concert!"

COFFEE TIME —

AFTER: "Blaah!!"

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT COUNCIL

FIRST ROW: D. Livesay, G. Sexton, B. Padgett, K. Ellrod, S. Belch, L. Smith, T. Matthews. SECOND ROW: M. Varnell, K. Peters, K. Jackson, T. Beasley, R. Bailey, J. Dunn, J. Hamm. THIRD ROW: M. Smith, B. Carpenter, T. McLaughlin, D. Stroupe, E. Roberson, A. Stallings.

The newest organization in student government, the Honor Code, serves to improve student - teacher relations. It is composed of student, faculty, and administration representatives. They are: Mr. Forrest, Administration; Judy Dunn, Senior; Kay Jackson, Freshman; Tay Beasley, Sophomore; Edward Roberson, Junior; Jackie Bartholomew, Vice-President; David Lanier, President; and Mrs. Morse, Faculty.

Officers are: Jackie Bartholomew, vice-president; Mrs. Morse, advisor; David Lanier, president; Rose Ann Thompson, secretary; Rob Howard, treasurer (not pictured).

The Student Council sponsored Judy Dunn as their homecoming candidate.

THE ESTELLE B. JENKINS CHAPTER OF THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

FIRST ROW: J. A. Joyner, P. Rountree, E. Logan, M. E. Nettles, M. M. Pennington, R. A. Thompson, J. Bartholomew, A. Colson. SECOND ROW: L. Bryant, B. Babcock, D. Lanier, S. Carlisle, A. Cooper, R. Caroline Schiff represented the Science Club in the competition for homecoming queen.

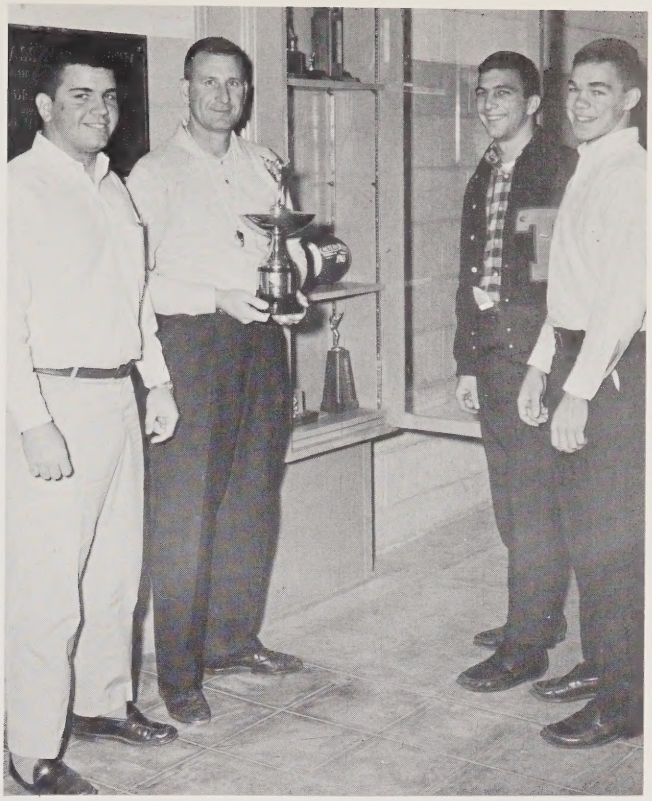
Officers are: Nancy Smoot, vice-president; Mr. Houston, advisor; Mary Earle Nettles, secretary-treasurer; and Smitty Fleming, president.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

One of the smallest clubs at THS is the newly reorganized Photography Club, supervised by Mr. Houston. It has already become an integral part of the school. Members of this club are: Edgar Sugg, Mike Owens, Scotty Martin, Rad Bailey, Gerald Harrell, Keith Burnette, and Bryant Arnold. Not pictured is Sam Carlisle.

MONOGRAM CLUB

The Monogram Club sponsored Lida Hayes Calvert as their candidate for homecoming queen.



Officers of the Monogram Club are: Jim Hussey, Secretary-Treasurer; Mr. Alexander, Advisor; Mike Connor, President; Bucky Perry, Vice-President.

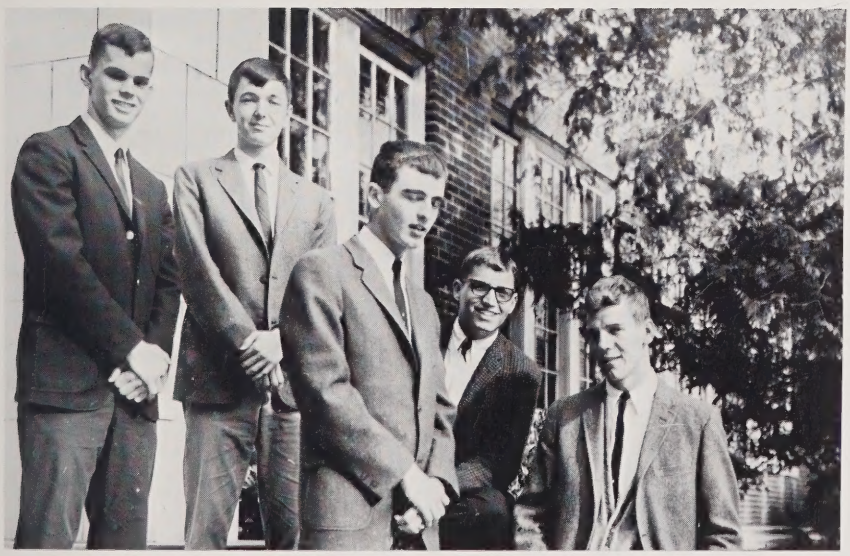
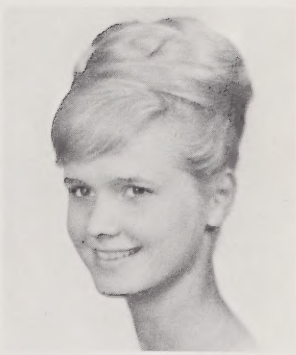
KEY CLUB

The Key Club, THS's lone service organization, continues in its contributions to the school and community. The Key Club gave a new flag to the school and served as ticket salesmen at every home football and basketball game. The Key Club serves the community by helping with the March of Dimes and aiding its sponsor, the Kiwanis Club, in various service projects.



Officers are: Bo Carpenter, Vice-President; William Allsbrook, Board of Directors; Rob Howard, President; Sam Carlisle, Board of Directors; Jackie Jackson, Treasurer.



The Key Club sponsored Sally Ann Whitehurst as a candidate for homecoming queen.

THE JOHN W. COTTON CHAPTER OF THE ORDER OF DEMOLAY

Bernice Mears was sponsored by the Order of DeMolay as their candidate for homecoming queen.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

The J. V. cheerleaders are excellent ambassadors in developing community spirit as they participate in the homecoming parade. Tay, Lucinda, Gail, and Margaret adorn this float.

"Keep the palm down--we're not begging!" Chief Tay Beasley shows co-chief Gail Tostoe the proper hand position for one of the J. V. cheers.

J. V. Cheerleaders are: Gail Fleming, Jean Servais, Lucinda Smith, Harriet Robbins, Mattie Simmons, Kay Jackson, Kathy Saunders, Tay Beasley, Margaret Bramham, Dena Livesay, Gail Tostoe, Gail Wickham (Tiger).

Behind the scene support given by the cheerleaders at this spirited pep rally is an example of the inspiration which paved the way to the "number 1" position for the Tigers.

Miss Ellis (Sponsor), Eleanor Logan, and Nancy Smoot, show that they are able to smile in spite of their dwindling funds.

THE 1966

"This is it, girls--that page we lost last week!" Advisor Mrs. Worthington proves to the Editor, Ann Colson, and Co-editor, Ann Cobb, that her trusty cabinet has everything necessary to produce a Tar-Bo-Rah.

The Annual Staff sponsored Ann Colson as a candidate for homecoming queen.

"The thought probably evades me," utters Sam Carlisle, the staff's noted Copy Editor, as he searches the realms of his imagination for new copy ideas. Typist Judy Pate waits patiently for the startling results.

"Mrs. Worthington, if you could spare us the tape, we could get on with the advertising." Martha Taylor and her assistant, Ella Ann Smith, are in charge of organizing the ad section, the last but most necessary part of the annual.

TAR-BO-RAH

"If you match like you add, the Tar-Bo-Rah can really rake in some gold from you!" exclaims Judy Dunn, Business Manager, to David Lanier, Circulation Manager, as they discuss finances for this year's annual.

Prior to the opening of this year's football season, Coach Doug Alexander said of his Tigers, "We just might surprise a lot of people this year." One wonders if he even expected a jump from last year's 4-6 season to the 10-2 overall record and Eastern AAA Championship of this year.

Back around the last of August, all of Tarboro's drugstore quarterbacks began finding weakness in the Tiger line-up. A lack of depth, poor passing defense, and weak blocking in the line were cited as the major problems. As to the first problem, conditioning and luck were the answers. Second, the Tarboro pass defense came through consistently enough to prevent any great damage. The final major problem became less of a problem as the season progressed. The highpoint of the offensive line came in the championship game when the Tigers had the ball on their own 1 yard line. Before the half ended, the Tiger backs had followed the line into Greenville territory, preventing the Phantoms from scoring what could have been the winning points.

What this year's team lacked in size and number, it more than made up for with determination, hard running, and the trickiest faking in the East. Most assuredly, next year the Tigers will be few. However, a tradition has been started and it will go on!

The "Killer Play" of the championship game. Caldwell "sneaks" in from 50 yards out. Backfield faking enabled the quarterback to bootleg around the left end and gallop into the end zone untouched.

Tarboro 13 - Jordan 0 Away*

The Tarboro Tigers traveled to Durham and brought home a 13-0 first game victory. This game proved to be a good indication of Tarboro's weaknesses and strong points. The Falcons were able to gain 165 yards passing against the Tigers. To compensate for this, the Tarboro defensive line showed strength. Even more on the optimistic side was the explosiveness of the Tiger offense on the first play of the year, the team scored from 65 yards out. However, this and several other Tarboro touchdowns were called back because of penalties.

Rabbit pulls away from a Washington tackler. Other Tigers shown are Bo Carpenter and Richard Regan.

Marshall Beach gets faked by a Washington back. Moving in on the ball carrier are Serra, Pearce, and Jackson.

Tarboro 13 - Elizabeth City 6 Away*

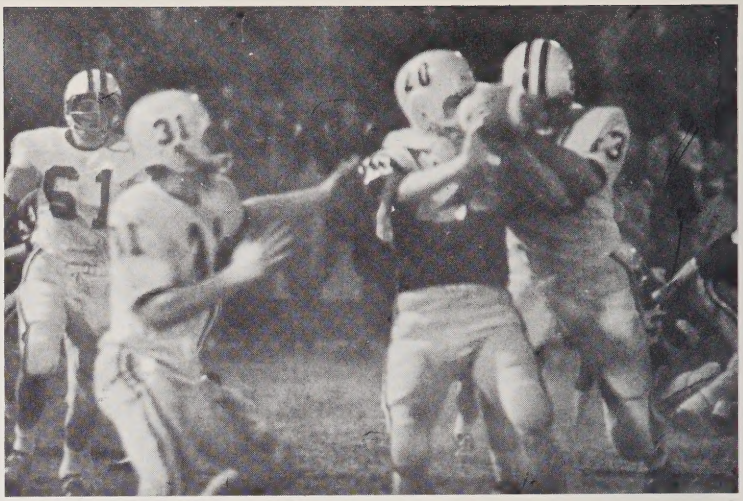
The Tigers had to scramble for their second victory, a conference win over E.C., last year's champion, in a game decided by the breaks. Two of the touchdowns came after fumbles recovered deep in the offensive team's territory, and the first Tiger score was a fumble runback. Clutch defensive play by both teams was prominent throughout the game. Both teams showed a strong offense in a game with little passing. Tarboro had luck along with ability, however, and came out on top.

Halfback Bucky Perry rounds left end and heads into trouble in the form of R.R.'s safety man, number 22.

Tarboro 25 - Kinston 14 Home*

With three wins under their belts, the Tigers came home for the first time. Tarboro scored on a 31-yard pass, a 5-yard pass that landed in a clump of defenders, a 12-yard run, and a 57-yard run. The Red Devils scored on a 63-yard pass play and had another set up by a 50-yard run.

The Devils scored the first time they got the ball but failed to score the extra point, and led the Tigers 7-6. This was the first time that Tarboro had been led all year. Both teams traded touchdowns until the fourth quarter, when the Tigers clinched the game after an 80-yard Red Devil punt.



Mike Caldwell is swamped under by the Dunn front line before he can pitch out on the quarterback option.

McLaughlin goes about 8 yards before a Dunn man reaches him.

Tarboro 28 - West Carteret 0 Away*

Tarboro shook off a slow first quarter and proceeded to trounce West Carteret 28-0. Undaunted by rain and a playing field full of sandspurs, the Tiger offense gained 218 yards rushing and the staunch defense, which had allowed only one touchdown in three games, held the Patriots to only 92 yards rushing. Tarboro's quarterback option play proved to be an effective weapon in this game, as it was the entire season.

Tarboro 20 - Washington 7 Home*

The Tigers of Tarboro High ripped their way back from the Greenville loss with a convincing win over the Washington Pam-Pack.

The two teams were like boxers, slugging the ball hard at the defensive lines. The Pam-Pack got in the first blow right after the kickoff as they marched into paydirt in 11 plays. The Tigers quickly retaliated, though, scoring in 4 plays, the last from 25 yards out. Tarboro's defense proved itself capable of stopping the Pack in the next series of plays, when a Washington drive was stopped on the Tiger 10-yard line.

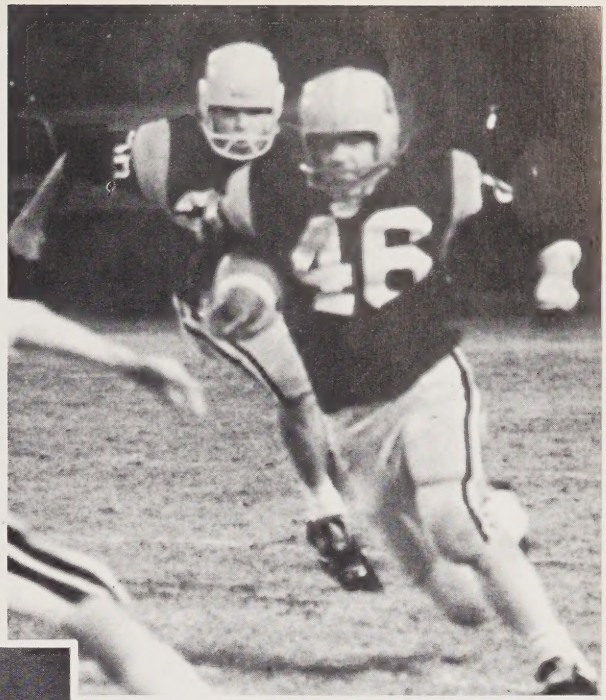
The Tarboro offensive line was tremendous as compared to its showing against Greenville. Time and again the backs were sprung loose for long gains! Tarboro was able to drive consistently deep in Washington territory.

Defensive guard Jerry Howard stretches in a vain attempt to reach a Greenville pass.

Roanoke Rapids 13 - Tarboro 6 Away*

Tarboro picked the wrong night to go flat, as the Yellow Jackets dominated the ground game and shut off the sometimes potent Tiger offense. Tarboro could muster only two drives, one that fizzled out on the R.R. 10 yard line and the one that scored the only Tiger touchdown. The defense gave up yardage too easily; the score could have been much higher against Tarboro, but the Jackets seemed to fumble their chances away every time they started to drive into Tiger territory.

The only bright spot in Tarboro's game was the scoring drive right after the half. The Tiger's received the ball on a punt on their own 46 and scored 7 plays later for their only six points.



Rabbit uses a change of pace to fool a Dunn player. Behind is Tony Pearce.

Tackle Jim Hussey leads the blocking for Perry in the semi-finals.

Greenville 20 - Tarboro 0 Home*

Both teams gained only 90 yards rushing, but the Greenville quarterback completed 9 of 12 passes for 113 yards. The Phantoms scored on a pass interception, a punt return, and a fluke run in which a Greenville end broke through two tackles to score standing up. Once, right after the half, the Tigers seemed to come to life and drove to the Phantom 32, but a fumble stopped the only threat a weak backfield and weaker line could muster.

Tarboro 40 - Havelock 7 Homecoming

For the second year in a row, the Havelock Rams received the full brunt of the Tigers' wrath. This year the Rams caught the Tigers on the rebound from an upset loss to Roanoke Rapids and were walloped 40-7. Homecoming fans were given quite a treat as the Tigers intercepted three passes, recovered three fumbles, scored on the return of a 1 yard punt, and rolled up a 27-0 intermission lead. In the second half, Tarboro rambled up and down the field, but ran over only two more scores.

The lone Ram score came on a 79 yard pass interception.

Defensive standout Mike Conner angles toward Phant ball carrier.

Tarboro 53 - New Bern 6 Away*

In what started as a football game but ended as a track meet, the mighty Tigators made shambles of New Bern's Homecoming hopes and gained revenge for last year's homecoming loss to the Bears, plus a berth in the conference play-offs.

The Tarboro offensive line shredded the Bear's defensive wall, opening tremendous holes for the Tiger backs, who rolled up an incredible 564 yards total rushing.

Finally, the Tigators had to literally step back and allow New Bern to "sneak" in from 38 yards out.

Tarboro 32 - Wilson 7 Home

The Tarboro Tigers paved their way into the eastern finals with a satisfying victory over class 4 A Wilson that enabled the Tigers to produce an 8-2 regular season record.

The contest was decided by an excellent pass defense which intercepted three Wilson aerials and rattled the Cyclone passer with a fearsome rush. Three times the Tigers nabbed passes and scored on the next play.

Wilson, with explosive punt and kickoff returns, could not be counted out until late in the third quarter, when Tarboro rolled over the Cyclone defense for the insurance touchdown.

Tackle Jim Hussey discusses the situation with a Greenville lineman and decides to flip a coin.

The Championship Game; this picture is self-explanatory.

Aftermath of a victory

THE GAME

Tarboro 13 - Greenville 7

The underdog Tarboro Tigers rose to the occasion and completely outplayed the vaulted league champs to take the Eastern Regional AAA Championship 13-7.

Greenville runners were shackled by the fired up Tarboro defense, which limited one of the best offenses in the east to only 92 total offensive yards. The passing of the famed Phantom quarterback was completely shut off, with only 1 completion out of 10 tries. So efficient was the Tiger defense that the Greenville offense was able to cross its own 40 only three times, and on three other occasions, were held within its own 20.

Tarboro's big play came on the Tiger's first play from scrimmage. The Tiger quarterback, with the aid of terrific faking, bootlegged around left end and raced untouched 50 yards into the end zone.

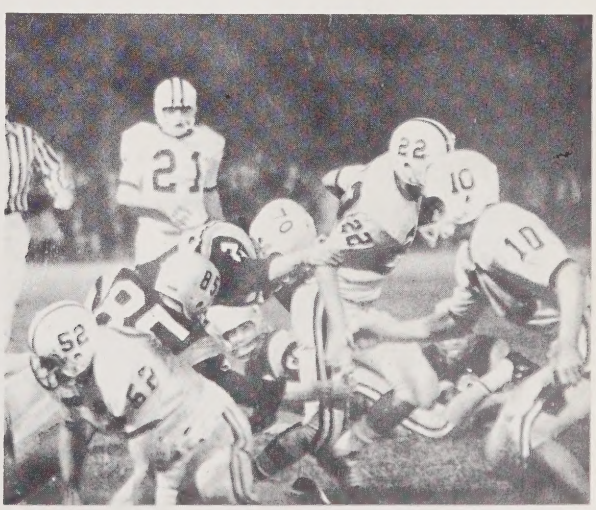
Throughout the play off series, improvement in the line, faking in the backfield, and field position were major factors in victory.

Tarboro 7 - Dunn 0

The Tigers struck for a quick first quarter touchdown, then held the Dunn Greenwaves at bay for the rest of the game to pull out a win in the eastern regional semi-finals.

The contest was a fight between power and finesse, with Dunn's power supply failing deep in Tarboro territory, and deceptive finesse bringing the Tiger score. Dunn used line plunges for much of the first half; then, late in the second quarter, began a series of power sweeps that had the Tigers reeling. The defense recovered soon enough to stop the Greenwave at the Tarboro 4.

Field position won the game for Tarboro. Always backed up in its own territory, Dunn would muster a 50 or 60 yard drive, only to have it fizzle out just before reaching the Tiger goal.

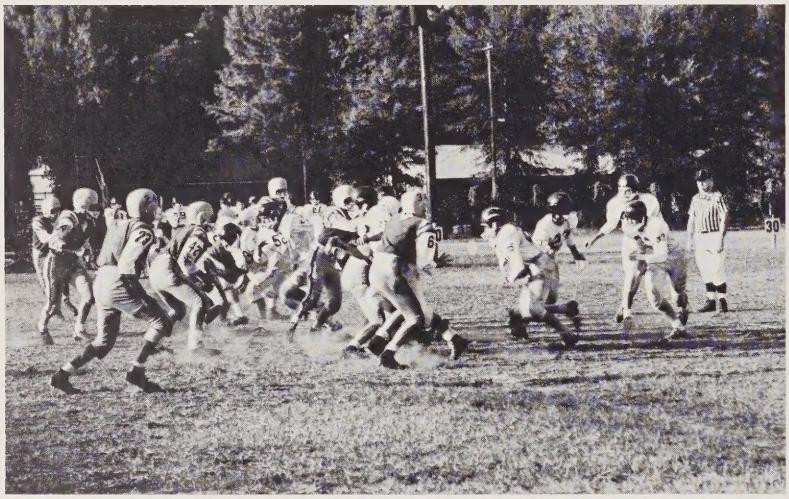


Purvis and Jackson team up to "brake" a Dunn back.

J.V. FOOTBALL

This was an unfortunate year for J.V. football. The squad was small in number and in size and had little experience. This seemed to be a good year for other J.V. teams, though, and logically, the Tarboro J.V. failed to win a game. But as everyone knows, winning is not most important.

J.V. fullback Randy Hughes breaks into the open against Elizabeth City



As an Elizabeth City back heads into the line, the J.V. defense swings over to meet him. Pat Burk, Joe Brazeal, Randy Hughes, and David Cook lead the charge.

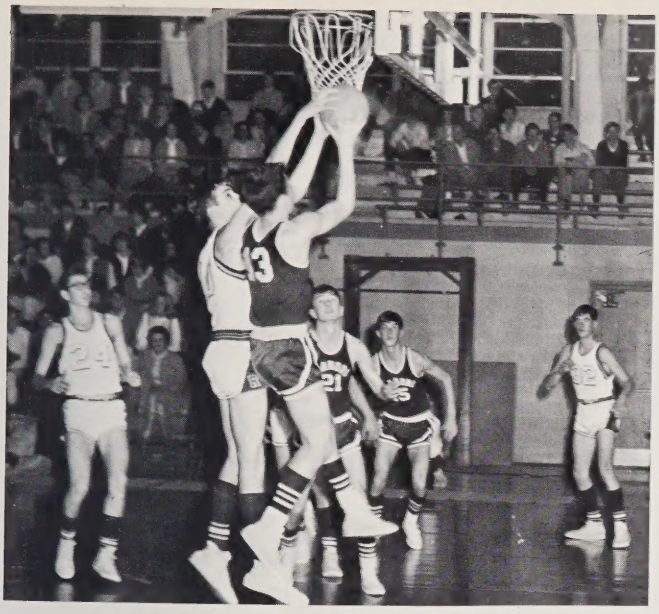
Prospects for an excellent basketball season this year seemed very promising to the average Tarboro fan. This team possessed most of the requirements for a winning team. Height, speed, shooting ability, a good bench - all were a part of the team. Because there were only two seniors on the team, a lack of experience in working together was considered as one of the few problems the Tigers should encounter. Coach Howell stated prior to the beginning of the season that his biggest worry was whether or not the team could gel, with the players working as a unit.

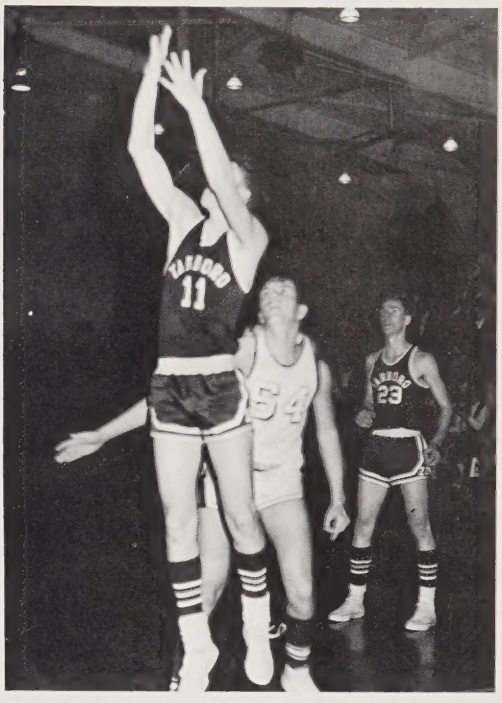
The Tigers were plagued with bad luck from the beginning of the season. After winning their second game, the Tigers lost their spark and lost their next four games to conference foes.

The future appears brighter than the present. The team is gaining playing experience valuable to the second half of the season and to next year's basketball hopes.

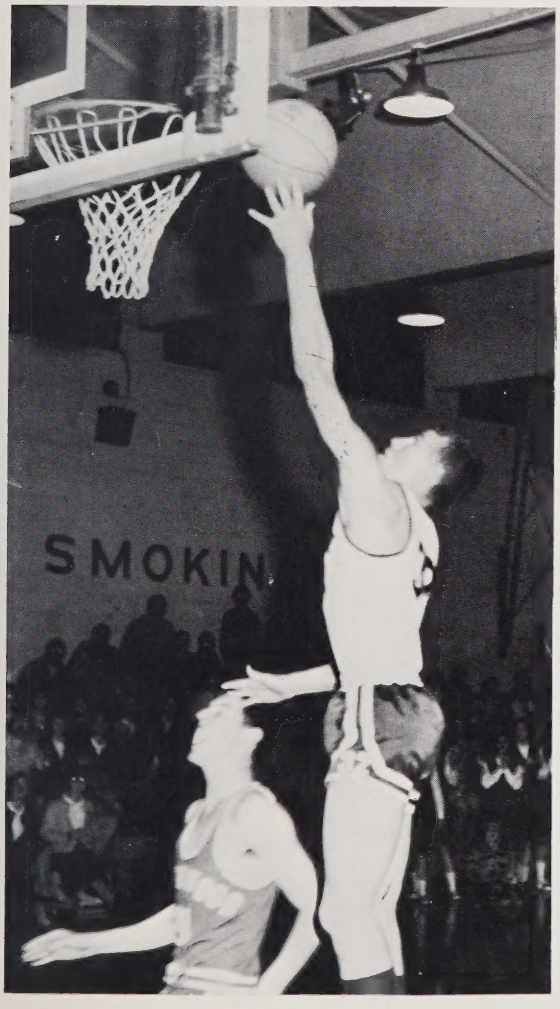


Bo Simmons' shot is blocked perfectly by Phantom defender.

McLaughlin gets the jump on the Greenville center.



Greenville's Rose High School basketball team, a pre-season favorite, had to stage a desperate last quarter rally to come out with a practice game over the Tarboro Tigers, 64-60, in the first game of the season. Greenville outscored the Tigers 10-2 in the last quarter to take a lead Tarboro could not match.

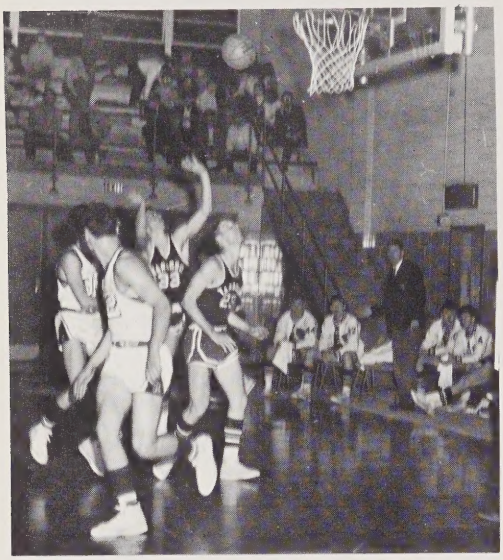


Caldwell scoring on a short shot?

Allsbrook scores on a snowbird.

The Tarboro Tigers ambushed the visiting Greenville Phantoms 55-42 to get vengeance for Tarboro's first game loss in Greenville. The win evened the Tarboro record 1-1, both practice games against Greenville.

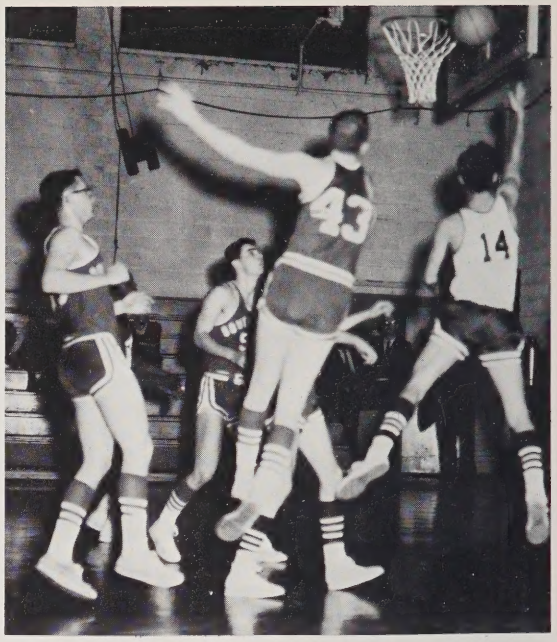
Against a pressing defense, Tarboro went cold in the last four minutes of the West Carteret game and saw a 3-point lead change to a 7-point deficit, as the Patriots won 58-51.



Caldwell scores and gets a standing ovation from Coach Howell.

Jackson hits a follow-up shot after a rebound.

The lowly - rated Washington Pam-Pack rose up and demolished a befuddled Tarboro squad 82-64. The Pack led at one time by 31 points, out-rebounded the Tigers 53-40, and hit 53 percent of their shots.



Beach slips one past a Southwood defender.

The Tigers suffered their worst defeat of the season at the hands of the undefeated Southwood College freshman team 79-50. The classy frosh team handled Tarboro at will, in spite of a Tiger height advantage.

Bardin flings a basket in from the side.

Bardin towers above Kinston players as he buckets two points.

In a game that changed hands five times, Tarboro came out on top of a highly regarded R.R. squad 71-64 with an 11 point flurry in the last minute of playing time.

The win was the first in Northeastern 3A play for Tarboro after four losses.

Tarboro came within a shade of defeating the powerful Kinston Red Devils with a determined rally that cut the Kinston lead to two points with 47 seconds remaining in the game. The Devils, however, were able to control the ball from then on and squeaked by with a 59-54 victory.

The loss set Tarboro's northeastern Conference record at 1-5.

Simmons hits on his specialty, a jump shot from the side.

Serra puts in a long, floating jump shot.

Aftermath of a defeat.

Experience is a major factor in any sport, the J.V. basketball team of this year discovered. This team had good potential but only two players with any experience at all. Improving tremendously as the season progressed, the J.V.'s failed to win many games but could still hope for a better future.

Head Coach Bobby Cooley

Anderson goes up from the side.

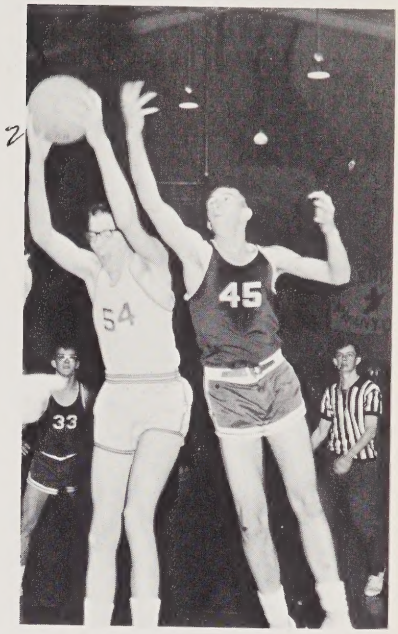
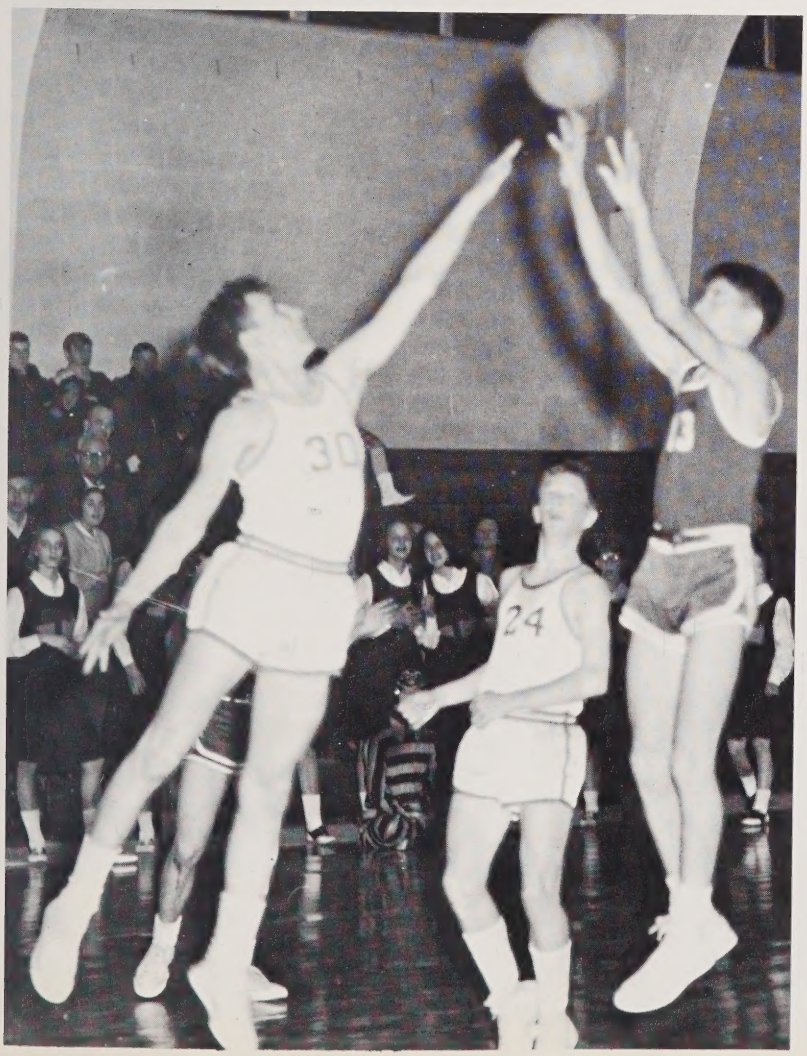
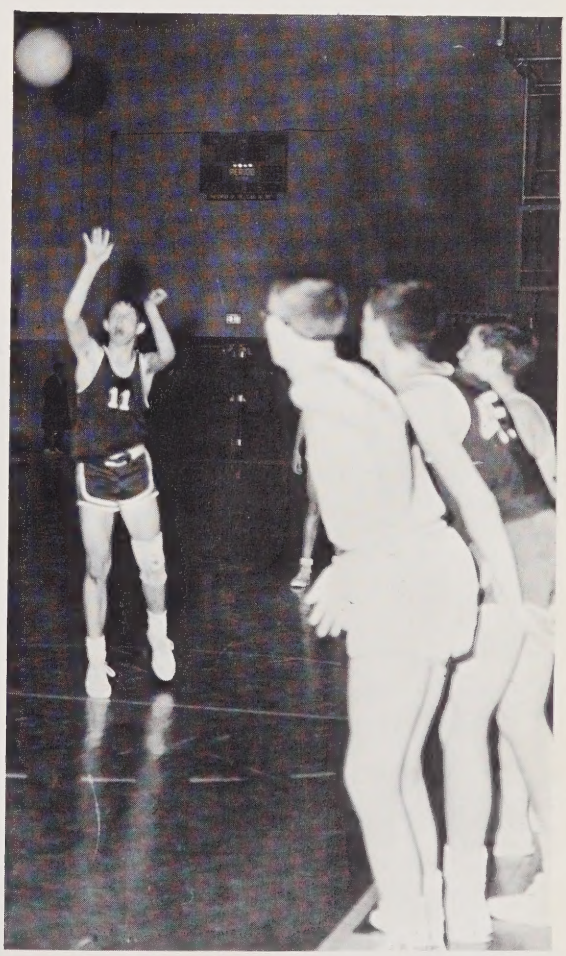
Robinson puts one in over a Greenville defender.

Regan misses his chance for a rebound.



Bridgers adds to the J.V. cause with a short jump shot.





Foul shots played an important part in the J.V.'s games. In one, against Roanoke Rapids, the cubs hit 15 straight.

Base coaching is an important but under-rated part of baseball and has won more than its share of games.

Baseball has never been very big in Tarboro and neither has the number of wins produced by the teams of the past few years. But the teams are improving. The 1966 squad loses only four seniors from last year's team and with more experienced players than usual, wins and attendance should increase.

Dennis Worrels plans to disprove the idea that pitchers are weak hitters.
